

Oh, for the Good Old Days—the good old days of gasoline rationing when there weren't so many screwball drivers on the road... Bill Lippman, who doled out the gas tickets then, must be having his last laugh now. Those people who used to complain, are getting plenty of gas now and the highways are a mess...

TRAFFIC—“With all these cracks you take at drivers, aren't you afraid you're going to become awfully unpopular?” asked a woman yesterday. No, because every motorist, me included, thinks he is the best driver in the world. They all think I'm taking a crack at the other fellow. There's no driver who some time or another, hasn't stuck his head out of the window and shouted something uncomplimentary at another motorist... Except, of course, the perfect ladies and gentlemen—and I'll bet they've thought unkind things.

THE VILLAGE—If you hear the strains of the Wedding March from Reed's Radio Shop these days, it's just Ted Reed playing records and getting accustomed to the tune. He's planning to take the middle aisle soon... Rudy Buchanan, movie manager, had all Village married men excited this week until they found that vacation was just a picture.

THE MAIL—Practically every mail brought a nasty remark about the two stories that had the wrong heads on last week. To all 28 correspondents, will say that a long, long time ago, a Los Angeles city editor consoled me (after a terrific verbal blast) with the statement: “But, finally, kid, remember it's only the guy who doesn't do anything who never makes a mistake.”... In the middle of a pleasant shower the other night, the telephone sounded off. Wrapping myself in a towel—and for once it reached all the way around, I answered. “How do you spell ‘Czechoslovakia?’” came the query. You know how cold it was, so the woman at the other end of the line probably heard “C zee zee zee ch ch ch slovakia”... Another guy calls up to settle a bet. Wanted to know what Bay View paid in the Anita handicap a few years ago. Was able to answer that one, too. $118.40... That's just Sun service.

MUSIC—It's still “Symphony,” “Might As Well Be Spring,” and “I Can't Begin to Tell You.” Let it Snow! dropped back, and my latest favorite, “Aren't You Glad You're Young?” moved up... “Let it Snow” began to lose favor with me Monday when I had 32 miles of driving in a brisk snowstorm between Riverside and Banning. The weather outside was frightful, and inside it wasn't any too delightful. Jack Benney and his troupe are in town and will broadcast from the Plaza Sunday. Try to get in. Reminds me of another disillusionment. Mrs. Tom May of the noted department store family, is in town, and said this week that Mary Livingston never did work in the May Company basement.

NAMES—Got a kick out of Fibber and Mollie the other night when they asked Old-Timer his name. He finally admitted “Rupert.” Can sympathize with him. Parents should be careful how they name their offspring. The kids have got to take it when they go to school. Being a perfect 5x5 when I went to school, I was nicknamed “Fat,” but dignified it by spelling it with a “Ph.” Vowed to give my own offspring simple names and had “Mary” picked out for the first. But had to change that on the spur of the moment to “John,” when the nurse came out and halted my pacing. Had “Mary” all set for the second, but being experienced by then, had Robert in reserve. Had to call on the reserves. Seems the cards are stacked against “Mary.”

WHO—I'm the big boss around here with one exception. That's Frank, who spots the type in the pages. He just came to me and said: “Cut it short, you're too long-winded again.”

Village Aiding Needy Europeans

Palm Springs is doing its part in the National Clothing Drive for the poorly dressed of Europe and other war-torn countries, according to Miss Marienda Borden, manager, in charge of the drive.

She reported that a lot of clothes, shoes, hats and other sundry articles have been collected, but more is needed. One more week remains in which to donate cast-off clothing, she said. The Woman's club of Desert Hot Springs brought in a load of clothes the other day to be added to Palm Springs' donation. Collection depots are in the Chamber of Commerce building and the post office.

Chief Kettmann Will Attend FBI Course

City council yesterday favored the sending of Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann to the 12-week FBI school to be conducted in Washington, D. C., in April, 1947. The matter was brought to the attention of council by City Manager William E. Alworth, who said early action was desired by the FBI, so that the program could be completed.

Engineers Enthusiastic Over Tram

Report After 10-Day Study Indicates Project To Be Success

From May to December and from the sun-kissed desert around Palm Springs to knee-deep snow in not more than 22 minutes is the promise held out when the San Jacinto Winter Park tramway is constructed and in operation, some time in 1947.

The authority for this statement was found in the oral report made by Gordon H. Banner, chief bridge and tramway engineer of the American Steel and Wire company, subsidiary of the United States Steel Co., before the Winter Park Authority here. Banner made this report after a ten-day stay in Palm Springs during which time he inspected the site of the tramway on the desert in Chino Canyon and the upper terminus atop San Jacinto mountain.

ULTRA-CONSERVATIVE

Coupled with his report, was one which was made by Roland Peabody, managing director of the Cannon Mountain Aerial Passenger Tramway now in operation in Franconia Notch, New Hampshire. He, too, spent 10 days here going over the ground here with Banner and gave a comparative picture of the operation of the tramway here when it is completed, and the one he directs in Franconia.

Both men, who are considered ultra-conservative in the expression of any thought dealing with such a titanic undertaking as the construction and successful operation of the San Jacinto tramway, were highly enthusiastic over the proposed $2,000,000 project.

Both men spent many hours before full sessions of the Tramway Authority here, and were subjected to minute questioning by its members.

HAVE FAIR PICTURE—“Now we have a pretty fair picture of how the tramway will look and what it will mean to California,” declared Earl Coffman, president of the Tramway Authority. Coffman said that it is known now, that the cars operating on the aerial cable will carry between 55 and 60 passengers and it will travel at the approximate rate of 1,000 feet per minute. This calculation would take the car 12 minutes to travel from the 2700-foot level in Chino Canyon to the top of San Jacinto mountain. Using this time as a basis, patrons of the tramway will be able to travel from the heart of Palm Springs to the top of the mountain in approximately 22 minutes, allowing 10 minutes for travel to the “take-off” point in Chino Canyon.

REMAIN STANDING

In addition, it is known that passengers using the tramway will remain standing during the trip. In all probability the “conductor” in the car will act as a “barker” who will paint a word picture of interesting sights as the car is drawn to the top.

“This double duty on the part of the conductor,” declared Coffman, “also has a psychological angle for those future passengers who, although they fear to ride in aeroplanes, are figuratively taking such a trip while keeping one foot ‘on the ground.’” This (Please Turn to Page Four)

Dean Steps Out as Head Of Planners

Charles Burket Named Chairman of City Commission

Charles J. Burket was elected chairman of the city planning commission, succeeding William Dean, who resigned Monday, after acting as a member of that body for four years. Walter Z. Allen was elected to act as vice-chairman, and Roy W. Colegate as secretary.

At yesterday's meeting of city council, Mayor E. E. Theriau's nomination of Lee Kolbach, well-known local tax expert, to succeed Mr. Dean on the planning commission was confirmed by a unanimous vote.

REGRETS ACTION

Dean, who is secretary of the organization which recently purchased the Smoke Tree Ranch, said that his new duties would interfere with his action as a city planner. He said he regretted deeply his resignation, and that his association with the other members of the planning commission was of the friendliest nature.

His letter to the mayor is as follows:

“I am handing you my resignation as a member of the city planning commission, effective immediately. I regret very much that obligations I have recently assumed make it necessary for me to do this.

“I deeply appreciate the confidence you have placed in me by re-appointing me to membership in the commission, and I have enjoyed more than I can say, my association with you and with the other members of the commission.

“Further, I wish to assure you of my sincere desire to be of help to you at any time in any way I consistently can.”

PROTEST RULING

Following closely on the heels of Dean's resignation, was the verbal pyrotechnics which flared up between opposing sides in the re-zoning of the property around lots 5 and 6 in the block south of Las Palmas.

According to Florian Boyd, who owns real estate in the disputed area, the planning commission overruled the protests of himself and other property owners to extend the lots facing Palm Canyon Drive 30 more feet, for the erection of a commercial venture. Boyd declared that the protesting property owners, in addition to himself, were J. Arthur Connors, S. Whitlock, A. B. Crist and Charel Thomas.

Mind If We Brag a Little?

The Desert Sun of Palm Springs this week sets something of a record.

The press run was 4,200 copies, largest to date in the 18-year history of The Sun. This issue contains 22 standard-size pages, 3146 inches of news and advertising. (Because of press limitations there are three Page 6's today—6, 6A and 6B. Had to do it that way to get in all of the news.) Outside of special editions, that constitutes the largest “regular” paper to date.

The Sun is grateful to Villagers and winter visitors for the fine support given it. It will always endeavor to merit that support.

Music From Mountain Stymied By Vandals But We'll Have Music

Vandalism by visitors to the “inspiration point” overlooking the O'Donnell golf course, this week had put a slight crimp in the Village's celebration of Western Day on Saturdays.

It was all like this:

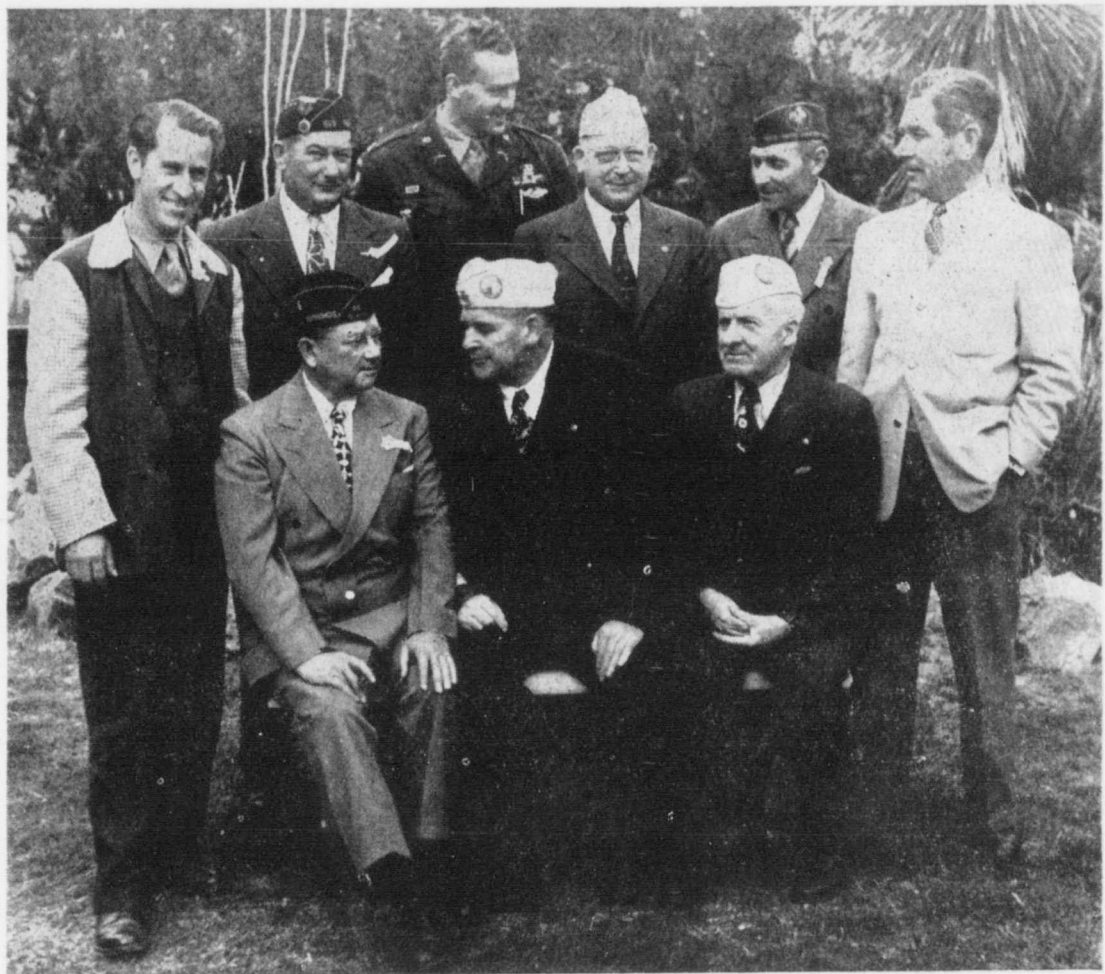

Recently when the merchant's committee of the Chamber of Commerce decided upon the Western Day event each Saturday, the business men voted to ask Nate Milnor to play a little “atmosphere” music over his big public address system, the loudspeakers of which are mounted on the mountainside overlooking the golf course.

This, Mr. Milnor, an ardent civic-minded citizen, readily agreed to do.

Several popular western records were delivered to him by the Chamber of Commerce and everything was in readiness for the dispensing of “good old mountain music” to help Villagers and visitors to get into the Western spirit.

But when Mr. Milnor went to the public address system he found vandals, old or young, he does not know, had seriously damaged the loudspeakers! Repairs were started, but the big music system has been stilled now for two weeks. He hopes to have the Western music “on the air” this week-end.

And Mr. Milnor has another grudge against his thoughtless visitors — they turned on water faucets on the mountainside and let them run, nearly flooding the area.

DAV Leaders Here to Start Local Chapter

“In the struggle between labor and industry as is now being waged it is usually the weak and disabled who suffer,” declared Joseph W. Spedding, California state commander of the Disabled American Veterans, during a luncheon meeting at the Desert Inn, Sunday.

The presence of Spedding together with Dr. F. E. Lenahan, DAV, department surgeon; Paul R. Cray, state adjutant and treasurer, and Frank Lopez, senior vice-commander of Post 5 of Los Angeles, was in conjunction with the official designation and installation of the newly created Palm Springs Post of the Disabled American Veterans.

TO AID VETERANS

“The DAV's primary function is to aid disabled American veterans in obtaining their just rights,” said Spedding. “Our organization is not a resolution passing body. It is composed of the Wainwrights, the Cohens, Kellys, and Roosevelts. The rich and poor within its ranks have an equal word. History has shown that in the struggle between giants, like the one now being waged between labor and industry, the weak and disabled suffer,” the commander continued. “The DAV is organized to see that this doesn't happen.”

Greeting the DAV commander and party was Dr. James Potter, commander of the Palm Springs Post, James Dugan, senior vice-commander and Ray Hiller, adjutant. The entire group were the invited guests of Earl Coffman of the Desert Inn.

TO ADD 10,000

At present there is a state-wide campaign to recruit all veterans eligible for membership in the DAV. Spedding said that 10,000 names would be added to the rolls of the California department this month. Dr. Potter pointed out that in Palm Springs there is at least 100 veterans qualified to join the local organization.

Don't Be Free With Rubbish Says Fire Chief

Fire Chief Bill Leonosio today issued a reminder to Villagers that there is a law on the city books prohibiting dumping of trash in vacant lots.

“A lot of people lately have been throwing trimmings and rubbish ‘over the fence’ into the vacant lot next door,” he said. “That's against the law and creates a fire hazard as well as making an eye-sore. Just tell them they may get an invitation to call on Judge Guy Pinney if they keep it up.”

Do They Sing? Dance? Village Vanities Head On the Prowl for Talent

Does your wife, sister or girl-friend sing? Or do they prefer to dance? If they haven't already been approached by the eagle-eyed talent scouts of the Village Vanities Production company, then they have a date. And soon!

Auditions for the 1946 Vanities will commence this week-end, with the arrival in Palm Springs of James Wharton, noted theatrical director of Broadway musicals and national radio productions, according to Melba Bennett, producer of the popular Village Vanities since their inception in 1939.

SOUND YOUR A!

Those who would like to try out their voices; whether a deep bass with hair on its chest or an angelic lyric soprano with tremolo trimmings, are invited to meet at the new rehearsal rooms of the Vanities, located in the building between Palm Canyon Drive and Indian avenue, directly in front of the Torney General hospital entrance. Auditions will be held this Sunday, February 10 between 12 noon and 3 p.m. Don't forget—12 noon to 3 p.m. at the above-mentioned meeting place.

Aspirants may bring their own accompanists if they wish to, although an accomplished one will be on hand to play anything from “Chickery Chick” to Hymn 94 in the old book. So, boys and girls, get out the atomizers and tuning forks, stick out your chests and give us a good earful of your vocal talents. See you Sunday!

CAN YOU WRITE?

Composers of musical numbers and lyric writers are urgently needed and will be given an audition this Saturday, February 9, from 1 to 3 p.m., in the same rehearsal rooms. Any further information regarding those events may be had by phoning 5033.

An expert dance director has been engaged to train the chorus girls in their routines—when we get the gals. A beauty chorus of precision dancers is essential to the success of the show and those chicks with good figures and looks who have a yen to get into a first class line-up before the footlights, can get some training for free. It's lots of fun, combined with some hard work (preparing you for the worst!) Get out the muscle-oil and limber up your pins, then drop into the Vanities headquarters and rehearsal rooms on Friday evening, February 8. (Please Turn to Page Four)

Plans For Civic Center Given O.K.

Council On Record For Acquisition of Hospital Property

The city council at a special meeting called by Mayor Eugene Theriau Friday morning at 11 o'clock, voted unanimously that it was desirous of acquiring the Torney General hospital properties when and if the government announces it as surplus. The council further went on record that it will cooperate fully with the Palm Springs Hospital association in the latter's request for the acquisition of certain of the Torney General hospital properties.

The purpose of the meeting was especially called to consider what action should be taken in the purchase of the hospital and to coordinate this action with the Palm Springs Hospital association.

SUBMIT PROPOSAL

Edward Bacon, chairman of the building committee of the hospital association represented his organization before the council. He asked that the city council give the hospital association a 99-year lease on the buildings it would require at a fee of $1 per year, if the city acquired the surplus property. This the council refused to do until it was presented with definite plans and map, indicating what the hospital would require. Further, council members refused to commit themselves on the lease question.

Following the departure of Bacon from the council chambers, the two resolutions were passed. The council, in its first resolution, felt it should consider the requests of the many other local, civic and community groups for participation in the use of the properties.

ADOPT RESOLUTION

It read in part as follows: “That the city is desirous of acquiring the Torney General hospital surplus properties for municipal civic purposes; that the following named organizations propose to use portions of said properties upon such acquisition. They are: Palm Springs Community Hospital association, American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary, American Red Cross, Palm Springs high school, Desert School district, Palm Springs Community church, Welfare and Friendly Aid association, Palm Springs Desert Museum, Palm Springs Masonic club, Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts, Chamber of Commerce, Boys' club, Youth Center, and similar community organizations. Each of these groups will be allocated a reasonable necessary grounds and facilities to carry out their programs.

Following this motion, the second resolution was adopted dealing specifically with the hospital association:

Tough Life Says Don DuBose as His Bones Knit

It's a tough life, according to Donald DuBose, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth DuBose. The lad is starting his third week in Riverside Community hospital as result of a traffic accident on Ramon road when his motor scooter and a dump truck collided.

He's looking forward to the day when he can get out. His right leg and left arm were fractured in the crash and the bone in his left leg cracked.

Modern Bakery Plant to Open Here Next Week

Meeting a long-felt need in Palm Springs, Verne L. Shores and Monroe Champion will open a modern bakery at 233 South Indian avenue next week.

Both lay claim to being genuine "desert rats," having been in the desert area for many years.

Both are experienced bakers and have served many of the private bakeries at restaurants here and in Lake Arrowhead and Los Angeles. Shores was with the Pig and Whistle company and with the Elite Catering company of Los Angeles for some time. Champion was with bakeries in Indio and Imperial and while in uniform for four years, installed many bakery plants at army camps throughout the nation.

Equestriennes of Village Organize Broom Polo Team

Fair riders of the Village aren't going to let the men have all the fun playing broom polo. They have organized a broom stick team and plan to play the Los Compadres club broom poloists at the coming gymkhana, Feb. 17, at Araby Stables.

Equestriennes, eager to get in on the sport, are urged to contact Juanita Redman at the Araby Stables.

Already on the team and practicing steadily are Juanita Redman, Jimmy Rogers, Shorley Wilson, Anita Jones, and Jane Neal.

LOUIS DANZINGER PROUD GRANDPAPPY

Mr. and Mrs. Louis "Danny" Danzinger, 210 Crestview drive, received word early Monday morning they had become grandparents. Cyrus Carrithers, son-in-law, called by telephone from Terre Haute, Indiana, and in a highly excited and gleeful voice broke the news that his wife, and their daughter, had that morning given birth to an eight pound one ounce baby girl. The news here in Palm Springs has left the new grandparents in a state of excitement which is continuing unabated. The child was named Candace Lee Carrithers.

Body of Missing Man Found in Car At Cathedral City

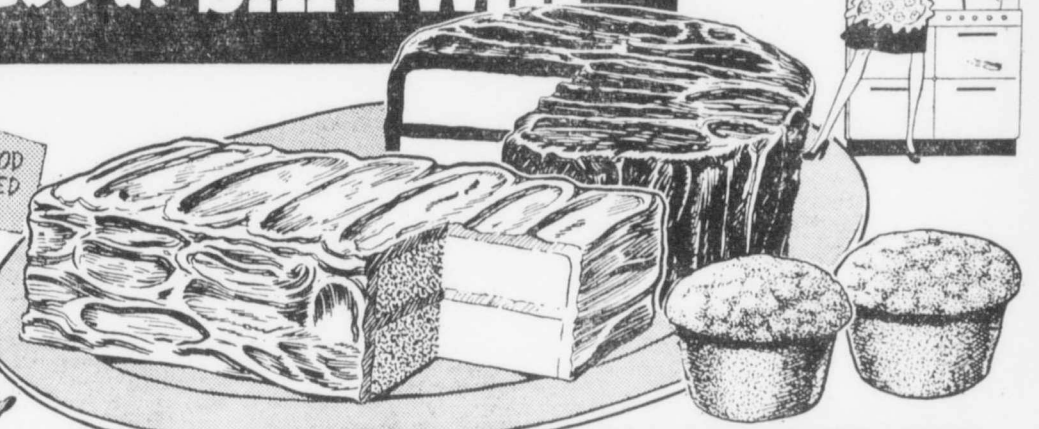

A desperate attempt on the part of the local police department and the sheriff's office at Indio to find Joseph P. Brown, 47, of Victory Court, Banning, to keep him from suicide, ended in failure early Tuesday morning. Brown was found dead in his automobile south of Cathedral City, a victim of monoxide poisoning, caused when he allowed the exhaust of his running motor to enter the interior of his closed car.

Mrs. Inez Brown came to the Palm Springs police department Monday evening at 8:30 p.m., to report that she had received a letter from her husband, postmarked Cathedral City, in which he had written: "I'm going to end it all." A search that night failed to reveal his whereabouts and the search was continued in daylight Tuesday, which resulted in the discovery of Brown's body.

March of Dimes Total May Top $5,000 Figure

Dwayne Bardwell, chairman of the recent March of Dimes, and Barney Ostrow, who directed the highly successful campaign here, today reported that total collections in this area were $4314.96 as of last Thursday night, the close of the drive, but that more money was still coming in and the total will probably approach $5,000.

The local quota was $3500. In Palm Springs $4,010.07 was contributed. Desert Hot Springs turned in $29.31, B-Bar-H ranch $94.19, Cathedral City $81.39, and churches $100.00.

Building Record In January Hits New High Mark

Building in January in Palm Springs totaled $303,300, according to P. M. Swart, deputy city engineer and building inspector. In January, 1945, the total was $43,460.

According to Mr. Swart, 23 new dwellings, valued at $135,000, were started, eight apartments and duplexes, valued at $104,000 were begun, four commercial projects, valued at $13,500 started and permits for 12 alterations jobs, totaling $50,300 issued.

According to Mr. Swart, the record for February will also show a great increase over February of last year. The month is already away to a brisk start.

DISCUSS TRAMWAY—C. E. Bannerman, chief engineer of the American Steel and Wire Company, and Roland Peabody, manager of the Franconia aerial tramway in New Hampshire, at luncheon with Earl Coffman, president of the San Jacinto Winter Park Authority. Both easterners spent 10 days in Palm Springs inspecting the upper and lower terminus of the tramway sit. From left to right they are: Bannerman, Coffman and Peabody. (Frank Partridge Photo).

Tramway...

developed during the questioning of Peabody by the Tramway authority, and resulted in considerable laughter.

WILL BE SAFEST

Every known device will be employed in the operation of the tramway, Coffman said. The automatic safety devices, produced after long years of experience in tramways over the world and especially the passenger tramway in Franconia will be employed. The one in operation in New Hampshire which started long before World War II, has not had an accident.

It is known that the cable carrying the car will be 2½ inches in diameter with steel tower supports along the distance from the desert to the top of the mountain. Once at the top, winter sports enthusiasts will find restaurants, rest rooms, and other conveniences. All of these buildings will in all probability include merchandising stores, will be built by the Winter Park Authority and then either be leased or rented as concessions.

SUCCESS FORESEEN

With reference to the successful operation of the tramway from a sound business viewpoint, the only comparison that can be made is with that of the Franconia tramway. It was pointed out that despite the restriction of automobile and other transportation facilities for travel on the eastern coast, Franconia was more than able to pay its operation expenses and take care of the amortization of its bonded indebtedness.

With the easy accessibility of the Tramway here, and the ever increasing flow of traffic on the state highway and Palm Canyon Drive, the financial success of the project here is almost a foregone conclusion. The tramway here will be the only place in the world where one can bask in the summer sun of the desert here in the winter time, attired in sun-togs, and in less than half an hour, changed in attire, be on top of a snow covered mountain skiing or engaging in other winter sports.

IDEAL LOCATION

Prior to Peabody's departure for the east he made the following statement:

"From the studies made of the contour maps and aerial views, the mountain above 8500 feet lends itself to outstanding recreational developments for both summer and winter use. Slopes appear to be of proper grades to make them ideal for the average skier, which is the majority of the tramway winter business from our experience at Cannon Mountain in Franconia, New Hampshire. With ample transportation capacity from the highway to the valley station of the tramway contemplated here, the project should be a financial success."

Bannerman also issued a statement, culmination of his ten-day inspection tour here. Phrased in the conservative words of an engineer, generally cautious in any prognostications of any subject which as yet has not been drawn into a blue-print, his statement, it was pointed out, was highly enthusiastic. It reads as follows:

"After a ten-day examination of Chino Canyon and its slopes leading to the area surrounding Long Valley a-top of San Jacinto, the construction of an aerial passenger tramway in the Canyon is entirely feasible. It can be built with the maximum of safety and will be the most notable engineering structure of its kind in the world."

COSTS UNDER STUDY

Preliminary estimates of cost will be determined from the data at hand and Bannerman will have them available for the Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park Authority within sixty days. These costs will include the tramway erected and ready to run.

"Bannerman, who built the Cannon Mountain Passenger Tramway in Franconia Notch, N.H., is very much enthused concerning the success of the Mt. San Jacinto project," declared Coffman. "So am I," he added.

Sinatra Show Will Go Out Over KCMJ From Plaza Stage

As a benefit for the Palm Springs Wars Memorial fund, a gala premiere for station KCMJ, with the Frank Sinatra show originating from the theater stage during one-half hour of the evening's performance, will be presented at the Plaza Theater the evening of Wednesday, February 20.

Plans for the outstanding entertainment which will have the double purpose of inaugurating Palm Springs' first radio broadcasting station and increasing the funds for the memorial honoring the war heroes, were announced today by Gordon Feeckings, Wars Memorial chairman for the Owen Coffman Post of the American Legion here.

SALE STARTS SOON

Tickets will go on sale within a day or two at several places in the Village and members of the Legion, Auxiliary and other organizations will have them available also. Arrangements for the appearance here of "The Voice" and his famous troupe of entertainers, were worked out by Clinton Jones, manager of KCMJ.

The evening's show will go on the air at 6 p.m., with the Sinatra performance opening the schedule. With him will be his usual band, Pied Piper singers, comedians and as a special feature the governor's Hill-Billy band from Louisiana.

FORMAL EVENT

Immediately following the Sinatra show will come the formal inauguration of KCMJ, the 250-watt radio station which the Palm Springs Broadcasting company, comprising Dick Joy and Donald McBain, has been building for the past two months at a location north of the Village, will be officially welcomed on the air. The station will be on the air informally next Tuesday, completing final tests and preparing for the inaugural.

Stars of radio and screen are to be invited to participate in the Plaza performance, and several dozen top executives of CBS and the screen companies are expected to be in attendance, according to Mr. Jones.

Emphasizing the urgent need for funds for the Wars Memorial fund, Mr. Feeckings today appealed to all residents of the Village to join in this gala radio opening.

Edward Bacon Wins Praise of C. C. Board

Appreciation to Edward R. Bacon, chairman of the building committee of the Palm Springs Community hospital, for his efforts on behalf of hospital facilities at Torney, was voted Monday by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce meeting at the Fiesta House of the desert Inn.

The directors termed Mr. Bacon's work on behalf of the hospital "one of the most unselfish acts yet to come to their attention" in connection with the Torney property. Mr. Bacon is a home-owner, resident of Stevens road, and is a prominent road equipment dealer of the San Francisco area.

EFFORTS PRAISED

Through his efforts, clearance was obtained for the immediate use of one of the large units of the former El Mirador hotel property as a community hospital and it is believed it will be in operation within a short time. Announcement of the employment of a hospital administrator was made by the association last week.

After a review of their former action, the directors voted to rescind an increase in the annual dues of the Chamber of Commerce and to leave them at $25 per year. Plans were laid for a campaign among the business men for a "multiple membership" plan, designed to provide a continuing operating fund for the organization. President Robert Ransom was authorized to appoint a committee to handle this work.

AID EMPLOYES

Seeking to assist the newly-formed Palm Springs Employees association in its efforts to arrange entertainment features for persons employed here, the directors approved the appointment of a committee of three to work with the group and to bring back recommendations on ways and means by which the Chamber of Commerce may assist.

Do not lay things too much to heart. No one is really beaten unless he is discouraged.—Lord Avebury.

Before Your Eyes

By BILL RASHALL

It's a lot of fun writing a column in Palm Springs. So many people tell me newsy things and then add, "Now Bill, please don't print what I've just told you. It's off the record." And I don't print them either. Not because I don't want to but because the town isn't big enough and anyway I can't run fast enough.

Then there are those who give me hot tips and add: "Don't mention my name in the story, Bill." And I know that in their case, if you didn't, they wouldn't talk to you again. Figure that one out and you're good.

Connie is a good singer as everybody will testify, but she has other excellent qualities, too. She rose to a situation the other day that would have tried the hearts of most. Her mother, Edith Barleau, barely recovered from a broken arm, was tripped by a big dog and fractured her hip, placing the mother in a cast for about two months. This not being enough, Ruby, her husband and manager of the Dunes, went down with a severe cold and is confined to bed. Put all of this into one week of trouble and then add that the show at the Dunes must go on nightly—well, it's just a pack of conscientious, hard work.

NEW ATTRACTION

There's a new feminine attraction at the Colonial House this week—a new vocalist with Joe Porretta's society dance band. Her name is Peggy O'Neil, sophisticated songs, sung in a sophisticated style, with a sophisticated air. By the way, KCMJ, Palm Springs new radio station will be broadcasting the music of Joe Porretta and Peggy's singing from the bandstand in the Colonial House nightly. Met Stanley Adams of Cathedral City there the other night. He is just back in town meeting old friends and making new ones. He's another Bernard Amoine, poured into his clothes and right out of the pages of Esquire.

"Danny" Danzinger is going to rip the roof off his place, The Lido, starting a week from this coming Monday. He will inaugurate an "Amateur Night" on Monday's hereafter, and there'll be prizes and everything, too. That new quartet he has there, the 4-V's, kept musical-minded Phat enthralled for more than an hour the other night and then he came back to hear some more. "They ought to pack the joint," he said.

Don Ameche in Our Lady of Solitude, with all eyes focused on him as he walked down the aisle to Communion. At the Community church, Chief A. G. Kettman, who takes up the collection

Councilman Martell Undetermined on Entering Contest

Councilman E. F. Martell of the second district this week said that he was still undecided whether he would be a candidate to succeed himself at the coming city election, but hoped that plans would turn out so that he could again be a representative of that district.

He was appointed to council to fill the unexpired term of Charles P. Adams, resigned, and has been going to bat for his district ever since.

He said he would have a definite announcement soon, and hopes that it will be that he is a candidate to succeed himself, as his many friends wish.

in church every Sunday while his wife is in the choir-loft playing the organ.

The only soft Hawaiian music that can be heard in town is in "The Hut" at the Chi Chi. Ukeles, and the sweet songs of the islands are featured there by the Reggie Valencia Trio. Talk about singing, Jo Alexander's rendition of "Ole Man River" will stop your quaffing or chewing the moment he hits the first word and note.

Victor Cavalier, out of the kitchen at the Pago Pago chatting with Joan Crawford, child of Palm Springs, and 2 unidentified ladies. His white chef's hat reaching for the ceiling, bobs back and forth as he French-accented his delightful-to-hear English.

Frank Partridge, who took off time from his Boys' Club here, to take his wife, Evelyn, out to dinner at the Pago Pago in celebration of her birthday. His daughter Edwina, was with them and the only one missing was Jimmie, who is way out in the Philippines.

George Stone and his bride, married this past week, stopped at the Doll House for a wedding-dinner on their way to the Lone Palm where they are staying. Jack Warner played host at another wedding dinner for Mervyn LeRoy and his new bride. Her last name is reported as Seigal and that she hails from Chicago.

A delightful person to meet is Ann Maurice of London England, now staying at the Lone Palm. She is in this country selling an engineering product for the company in which she acts as a director. An unusual job for an English woman. "It was all uphill, you know," she declared in a broad Oxfordian accent. More about her and her job next week.

Ted Reed won't deny that he will soon be waiting at the altar for a most lovely dark-eyed beauty. Can't give with her name as yet, though.

MORE ABOUT . . . Hospital . . .

Springs Community Hospital association, the city council will cooperate fully with said association in its request for acquisition of certain of the Torney General hospital surplus properties, but under the circumstances, is unable to make any commitment, other than that the council will supply to the association, in the event of acquisition by the city of said properties, such of said properties as the city council shall deem reasonably necessary grounds and facilities for carrying out of the association's program. Further, that a certified copy of this resolution be furnished the association.

Acquainted with the action of the city council, Florian Boyd, president of the hospital association, said that his organization would also cooperate with the city in the matter of the Torney General hospital. He also declared that the temporary hospital quarters which the army has agreed to lease to his association, will be ready to accept its first patients in about 30 days.

WITHIN 30 DAYS

"Unit B of the Torney General hospital will be in operation in 30 days," Boyd said, "if doctors, nurses and other personnel can be obtained." He added that army personnel was already checking the equipment the hospital would use, and engineers would arrive some time this week, to go over the cost of leasing the building and equipment with the hospital association executives.

"If this temporary hospital can save some person unnecessary pain or save a life until such time as the permanent hospital is acquired and in operation, the work and effort in obtaining this unit will have been well paid for," declared Boyd.

Hospital Plan Sent Congressman Phillips

All details of the council's action on acquisition of Torney General hospital properties, together with maps and complete data on the use to which the buildings are to be put, have been sent Congressman John Phillips, City Manager W. E. Alworth told city council yesterday.

Congressman Phillips will aid the city in its proposal at Washington.

Jam Session Packs 'Em in, Another Planned This Week

The impromptu musical "jam" session at the Lido last Sunday really gave with the type of music musicians play when they are not playing for the boss and are giving vent to all the musical idiosyncracies they possess. Nearly all of the town's professional "note-hounds" were on hand with their individual instruments.

The Lido was hot and sizzling and the only reason patrons of Danny Danzinger's Lido were not "hopping" and "swinging" on the sidewalk was because it was raining. The place inside was jammed, and the applause of the listeners in roaring appeal for encores was an indication of how everybody enjoyed the show.

ANOTHER SUNDAY

Although no one has officially announced their intention of being at the Lido next Sunday for a similar, there is strong indication and recurrent waves of rumor that a "jam" will take place there.

Following the type of music played at the Lido Sunday which ran the gamut from the jive to deep classics, Danzinger has this week booked a quartet of four sepi entertainers, composed of three women and one man. Each of them play an instrument, they all sing solo and together, their music ranges from the "Basin Street Blues," then dips to "Fat Momma" only to climb the pinnacle of the classics to the song and music of "Trees" and "Without a Song."

The quartet, billed under the name of the "Four Vs," is composed of Ivy Glasco, Von Kelly, Mata Ray and Jo Alexander. They came to the Lido direct from the "Streets of Paris" in Hollywood and have played many of the other popular clubs, including the Florentine Gardens. Further they have played in the best of them on Broadway and have made two motion pictures.

IN THE MOVIES

They had a part in the picture which has not yet reached Palm Springs, having only recently been released, called "I Love a Band Leader," starring Phil Harris and Rochester. The other motion picture was "Between Two Cafes," the first produced by Columbia Pictures, and the latter by Paramount.

Barbara Clatworthy Hardy of the Transcontinental Air Lines, Los Angeles, flew to Palm Springs Tuesday morning for a visit with the Fred Payne Clatworthys of West Ramon road.

CATHEDRAL CITY

(By W. R. HILLERY)

Kenneth Kimmell, deputy county assessor, was in the Village last week to map and appraise the values of new construction since the first Monday in last March. This work is preliminary to the call of the deputy who will tell you what the answer is. This second deputy probably won't get to Cathedral City until April, although officially if he could make his call on all the property owners of this village, Palm Springs, Rancho Mirage, Nightingale Camp, Ribbonwood, Edom and Desert Hot Springs, he would say "Howdy" on March fourth. This point is interesting. In past years I have assisted the crew in this work, and in many cases a couple of hours was sufficient. This year it took two full days and required cruising street by street. I did not ask the number of items added, but I will get it. In Palm Springs where they have the permit system to check with, it took a crew two weeks, and involved some 300-odd structures.

A fine reporter I would make. Arrived back from Riverside yesterday and heard that a suicide had occurred in our village, beyond that I get nothing but the vaguest rumors, that the party in question was named Brown.

I see where Mr. Bonelli says the granting of liquor licenses is a racket. He ought to know.

PLAN TOURNAMENT

As time goes on, we will hear more of the doings at Rancho Escopeta, for I have been told that the word means gun, maybe shotgun, for that is to be king of the Rancho. It's just east of the DeVall, Snyder Cobb, Page ranches. Members of clubs will start skeet and trap shooting in a tournament beginning on Washington's birthday and will run for three days.

The Cathedral City library needed some money for operation and to bolster the building fund, so they are putting on a dinner at Town Hall Saturday night. The dinner is planned for 80 guests and the tickets have all been sold. Will tell you the results next week.

The biggest event to be featured in Cathedral City each year, should be, and is, our Cactus Jumpers Jamboree and that is due Saturday, March 2. Tickets are now going like hot cakes. Tuesday night at Town Hall, I heard Carl Higgins report on progress, and it is good. The new playfield area is to benefit and enough preliminary work will be done on it to give some idea of what use can be made of it. It was reported that Art Whitlock, local painter-advertising man had made a dozen posters, and judging from the one I saw in the post office window, they are grand, and the nice part of it is that he donated half the cost of them to the playfield fund. The big name you will hear more about is Harry Bergman, who is coming down from Aguanga and put on an early California pit barbecue. Don't ask too many questions, but get your tickets, because you won't be stung.

DOING BIG JOB

Lewis Duncan is doing a grand work with the young boys here. He tells me that on the 26th of last month the Cubs took a box lunch and went into Box Canyon, which is a new name to me, but very appropriate. It's a box canyon all right, up on the east side of Cathedral Canyon. Games and other activities kept the youngsters busy. On the 20th of this month, there will be a special Pack meeting at the Town Hall at 7:30 in the evening, and all parents and others interested are invited. Advancement badges and pins will be awarded, and other entertainment furnished. Francine Melrose had to let Red Cross work go because she was

Sound First Call For Organization Of Softball Loop

Practice will start among softballers in the Village soon and organization of a summer league will be completed early next month, according to Harold West and Bob Bennett, who are mapping plans for the sport.

Already lined up for the loop are the Lions club, a team from the AAF, one from Indio, and one from Banning.

Play is planned each Tuesday and Thursday night at the Field Club.

Managers of teams interested in getting in on the play are urged to contact Bennett at 3121.

State Approves Gas Line Project From Blythe

The California railroad commission yesterday approved a joint application of the Southern California Gas company and the Southern Counties Gas company to construct a pipe line to bring Texas natural gas into Southern California.

The $12,400,000 project calls for a pipe line between Blythe and Santa Fe Springs, 214 miles.

At Blythe, the line will connect with a 720-mile length of pipe from the Texas gas fields.

The companies contended at hearings in December that by 1950 out-of-state sources will be necessary to supplement the local natural gas supply. The interstate commerce commission also must pass on the project.

overworked, but to taper off, she is acting as Den mother, and is arranging to have her Wolfpack barbecue their raw meat at an already established pit on the lot adjoining the Library lot, which in turn is east of the Town Hall.

OUT SOON — Sergeant John J. Ryan, son of Mrs. Thelma Davis, proprietor of the Colonial House, who this week sent word home that he had just been promoted to his present rank, and would soon be discharged from the Army Air Forces.

Sgt. John F. Ryan Back in Civies Soon, He Writes

Mrs. Thelma Davis, owner of the Colonial House, received word this past week that her son, Sergeant John J. Ryan, would be out of the army and home about March 5.

According to his plans, outlined in a letter received by his mother, Sgt. Ryan expects to receive his honorable discharge within the next few days or so and will proceed to New York City, where he will spend a few days with an army "buddy." Afterward he plans to visit for a few days with his aunt, Mrs. D. Lyle Fife, in Detroit, sister of Mrs. Davis.

Major Jones Is Anxious to Hear About Village

Major E. W. Jones, U. S. army quartermaster corps, misses Palm Springs.

Formerly stationed at Torrey General Hospital, he is now in Italy, having reached there via Phoenix, Florence, Seattle, Iran, and other way points.

"Feeling fine and hope you are the same," he wrote. "But am lonesome for the Village. It takes The Desert Sun about three months to catch up with me but I do enjoy reading all about Palm Springs. I fell in love with that place when I was at Torrey."

Local and Visiting Celebrities Gather At Colonial House

The dining room of the Colonial House was a rendezvous for many local and out-of-town socialites this past week and will be the scene of the finest broadcast of local musical talent when KCMJ, Palm Springs' radio station, goes on the air next Sunday, February 10.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph d'Alessio were host and hostess for a group of friends at dinner there, and later for dancing to the music of Joe Porretta and his society dance band. Present were Mrs. Hugh Stephens, Mrs. Anne Clifton and her son Charles, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cordrey, noted magazine illustrator, wintering here.

FOR DINNER, DANCE

Duncan Puett and his wife Harriette, owners of a famous club in Hollywood, dropped in for dinner and dancing. The couple are on their first vacation in several years, and left last Tuesday for Mexico City.

Guests at the luxurious hotel and nightly visitors for the dancing in the dining room are Mr. and Mrs. A. Lacidos of Pebble Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Miller, of Denver, Colo., will be there until February 10.

STORE OWNER HERE

Tom May, president of May Company, accompanied his wife to Palm Springs and the Colonial House, where he remained for two days and then had to leave Mrs. May behind while he returned to business in Los Angeles. She expects to be joined there this week by her brother-in-law, Harry May and his wife.

Friday evening Clint Jones, manager of KCMJ, was host to Commissioner Clifford J. Durr of the federal communication commission, who is on the Pacific coast conducting hearings for license applications with the government, for the operation of radio stations. Present at the party for cocktails and dancing was also John P. Herne, regional attorney for the FCC in the west; Mr. Wall of the internal revenue bureau, San Francisco; Ruth Jones, former secretary of the local chamber of commerce; Eloise Reeves of Hollywood; Esther Gilbert of the La Siesta Bungalows; Donald C. McBain, co-owner of KCMJ; and William Murtough, chief engineer of the local radio station.

FROM NEW YORK

Among the other guests who are enjoying the pool and the shine in the inner court of the Colonial House this week are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brandt, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Frederickson and Mr. M. Fontana of San Francisco. A foursome of friends from Great Neck, New York, which include Mr. and Mrs. Beestock and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Marx are sojourning there too. Guests until February 15 are Mr. and Mrs. W. B. West of Los Angeles, while Mesdames Elsa E. Deckelman and E. Fuller of West Hartford, Conn., leave today.

Col. and Mrs. James E. Frank are staying at the Colonial House until February 15, when they are expected to return to San Francisco. Other guests there are Mr.

Mrs. Fred McEvoy... this raven-haired dark-eyed beauty hails from Hollywood, but is a regular visitor to Palm Springs... Sally Nagle Aids Randolph Class

Sally Nagel, former model and dancer from the east is now in Palm Springs teaching dancing for Roy Randolph Dance studio. She appears with Randolph Saturday mornings at the Plaza theater from 9 to 10 to teach the children dancing and admits she has more fun than the youngsters do.

Miss Nagel started dancing as a young child in the east and is very enthusiastic about children learning to dance while they are young, not only for the healthful exercise but for the social value.

and Mrs. C. J. Halchester, Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Colb, Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kagen, Evanston, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Lane, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Phillips, of New York City; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cornelius, Los Angeles, will also remain there until February 10.

At the La Quinta

Dr. L. L. Davidson and family of Santa Monica are enjoying the warmth of Hotel La Quinta and their Bungalow San Anselmo. They are accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Bacon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Overholser are spending a few days at the hotel flying their own plane. They enjoy La Quinta airport and daily flights over the Salton Sea.

Out of Washington, D.C., for a few weeks of sunshine are Dr. and Mrs. N. Bush. Escaping New York and its snow are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Coons.

Back for a few weeks to enjoy Tennis and Hotel La Quinta are Mr. and Mrs. Artemus Gates.

Margaret Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Risken, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dunne and Mrs. Dick Haymes of Beverly Hills and the film colony are all enjoying sun-lazing at Hotel La Quinta.

La Quinta Hotel is once again the setting for national publicity pictures. This time for a new civilian aircraft soon to be released for sale to the air-minded hedge-hopping guest. Sorry we cannot give the name of the company yet. But when you have an airplane right at your swimming pool, you are beginning to think the "airplane is here to stay."

Down from Seattle, Washington, are Mr. and Mrs. H. McCurdy, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Easterbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Frankland, and Mrs. W. G. McKenzie. And up that way from Spokane, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hege.

Mrs. Berleky Schorr and lovely daughter are enjoying the bride trails at Hotel La Quinta, and the scenic date gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Block of Indianapolis and Mr. and Mrs. C. Stout are vacationing in San Timoteo at La Quinta Hotel.

At Rogers Ranch

Senator Maypole won't be clomping around the corral out this way for a little while now. He took off his blue jeans the other night and with them also came his spurs and boots. In their place he donned civified clothes and boarded the "iron-horse" for Chicago. It didn't seem like he was any too happy about a-goin' away, but he kinda chirped up and smiled when he thought now and then, that it won't be long until he returns to Palm Springs with his wife in March. He was a one-man chamber of commerce for our town and he packed away several reels of colored movies he aims to show to the folks back in the "Windy City."

The current strikes, shortages, et cetera, have effected many changes and disrupted all kinds of schedules. Now they have hit Rogers right in the ribs. Due to a change in shipping dates Rogers Ranch will from now on serve spare ribs every Wednesday instead of Thursday. Sunday, however, is still the same old rib-night.

These here woods are gettin' to be full of Richters. Adam and Joe Richter have been here several weeks and now comes Tony. These Richters are very interesting characters. They have a twenty-two thousands acre farm up in Woodland and run it on an eight-hour a day schedule just to prove that a farm can be operated as any other industry. Everybody in that neck of the woods wants to work for the Richters.

Speakin' of characters, those two guys who were doin' all the shillin' for the check room last week were Lester and Joe Linsk. They look alike, but are as different as the poles. One writes music and the other manufactures clothing.

One of the most attractive couples seen here are Jack and Dorothy Gorham who run the Estrella Villa. Dorothy hails from El Paso so maybe there is something to Texas' claim about having the world's best looking girls.

It's good to see Jack Downey back home again. He is on terminal leave from the army and just like the rest of us Pfc's, he is trying to find some civilian clothes.

Paul Carmine was out for the barn dance with the Barney Hinkles. Also saw Red Hershon and Herb Bregstein doin' the diner.

Don't let's forget that rib-night has been changed to Wednesday night starting this coming Wednesday.

BRIDE—Wanda Bruno, winter resident here for the past four years, who became the bride of Lt. George Alles at Great Falls, Montana, last month. (Bernard Photo.)

Miss Bruno Bride Of Lt. Alles at Montana Ceremony

Miss Wanda Nadine Bruno, winter resident in Palm Springs for the past four years and a member of the Los Compadres club, became the bride of Lt. George Joseph Alles of the army air forces at a ceremony performed at Great Falls, Mont., January 17, friends here were informed this week.

The vows were recited before Chaplain Steffas at the army air base chapel at Great Falls.

The bride wore a powder blue Forstmann wool dressmaker suit with matching accessories and a Lily Dache hat of soft blue trimmed with pink veiling. Her corsage was of baby orchids. Miss Anne Stansell of Nashville, Tenn., maid of honor, wore a rose wool with navy blue accessories and also carried a corsage of orchids.

Best man was Lt. Joseph Rahll of Oxford, Pa., also a member of the army air forces.

Lt. Alles' home is in Wilmington, N.C. He is a graduate of the North Carolina State College of Engineering and is now stationed with the air forces at the Montana base.

Bill Ortwin Goes To L.A. Conference Of WAL Officials

As a result of an ODT announcement that United States airlines will be entirely free for civilian use after February 15, Vice-President Thomas Wolfe of Western Air Lines yesterday telegraphed key local executives in nine western states and Canada to report in Los Angeles to receive instructions for handling what Wolfe predicted will be "The greatest influx of tourists to the West that the nation has ever seen."

Local officials of the airlines who boarded planes for Los Angeles in answer to the summons included Bill Ortwin, city traffic manager.

EXPAND FACILITIES

Wolfe's summons went out to over 150 key officials of the airline in thirty cities. He emphasized that the current acquisition of 23 new four-engined planes is greatly expanding the present and anticipated volume of travel on Western Air and other airlines.

The airline executives assembled for a four-day conference at the Hollywood Roosevelt hotel where they went into consultation with top ranking officials from the airlines' home offices in Los Angeles.

PLAN NEW AIRWAY

Among topics to be covered at the conference will be the forthcoming inauguration of direct four-engined air service between Los Angeles and Denver over an entirely new airway which has just been completed by the Civil Aeronautics Administration at a cost of nearly a million dollars.

Among key Los Angeles officials of the company who will meet with the field personnel are President William A. Coulter; L. H. Dwerlkotte, executive vice-president; C. N. James, vice-president in charge of operations; Thomas Wolfe, vice-president in charge of traffic and Paul Sullivan, vice-president and secretary of the airline.

Desert Sunshine Looked Extra Good on Monday

The sunshine of Palm Springs was more than doubly welcome to incoming visitors Monday morning. For, between here and the coastal valley, there was a brisk snow storm in San Geronio pass and along the Jackrabbits trail from Riverside.

The fall was brisk enough to coat the ground and hills in white. Minimum temperature here that morning was 34 and the maximum got up to 59—but it was bright and sunny—and wonderful.

Her name was presented to the council by Mayor E. E. Theriault. She will succeed Kenneth DuBose, resigned.

Anthony Burke, known to countless friends here as "Tony" is back in the Village to stay, after more than three years in war work. He is now associated with Raymond Cree in the latter's real estate office.

Mr. Burke was probably the Village's first press agent. In the era when he undertook to publicize the Village, they still called them "press agents." Now they are public relations consultants. RADIO NOTABLES HERE—Clifford Durr, one of five commissioners on the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C., was a recent visitor at Palm Springs. While here, he informally inspected Palm Springs' new station, KCMJ, which goes on the air next week. Left to right are shown Durr, Clinton Jones, KCMJ's general manager; Paul Hearne, FCC regional attorney for the Pacific Coast, and William Murtough, chief engineer, inspecting the tower. In the background can be seen Chino Canyon, site of the San Jacinto Mountain tramway.

Radio's Queen for a Day Will Be Here For Regulation Palm Springs Week-end; Great Program Planned for Honor Guest

Palm Springs will turn on its true hospitality Saturday in honor of radio's "Queen for a Day" who will be the guest here on a week-end outing, arranged by the Mutual Network.

To be chosen on Friday morning's "Queen for a Day" radio program at Earl Carroll's Theater in Hollywood, the "queen" will be flown here by Western Airlines on its Saturday morning flight.

VILLAGE WEEK-END

From the time she is met at the airport in true western style and transported to the La Paz Guest Ranch in a buckboard, the visiting "radio royalty" will be shown a typical week-end in Palm Springs. The buckboard will be provided by Rogers Stables through the cooperation of Glenn Rogers.

Saturday is "Western Day" in Palm Springs, so to keep the Village visitor in character she will be taken to Bullocks and outfitted in western garb by this exclusive shop. Manager Jack Ballard promises to provide an outfit that will make the visiting radio guest feel right at home among the western-garbed denizens of the desert.

PLAN BIG PROGRAM

Lunch at La Paz Guest Ranch will follow, and the afternoon schedule will also emphasize the western atmosphere here. A gymkhana, horseback ride, or other event will be planned to suit the pleasure of the "queen."

Dinner at the Palm Springs Tennis Club as guest of Manager

Lee Bering will be an event not soon forgotten by the feminine guest.

Then a visit to Rogers Ranch for the Saturday night will be a fitting climax to the day's events.

DAY OF REST

Saturday night will be spent as guest of the widely-famed La Paz Guest Ranch where the "queen" again will experience the true informality and comfort of the desert's hostilities.

Little is planned now for Sunday as it is thought probable that the guest lady will be anxious to soak up some of Palm Springs' luxurious sunshine, browse among the downtown shops or visit some of the scenic spots of the region.

TO GIVE REPORT

Accompanying the radio guest on the visits about the Village Saturday will be Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Richards, representing the chamber of commerce; Ruth Sougey, La Paz manager, and Beth Scott, who has made many of the arrangements for the week-end.

The "Queen for a Day" program is broadcast each day of the week from Monday through Friday and is carried by 285 stations. After a queen's visits, she appears on a succeeding program and reports on her delightful experiences.

A Letter From a G-M Worker

By

ETHEL GILLET WHITEHORN

Congressman Roy Woodruff (Rep.) of Michigan, has placed the following letter in the Congressional Record of January 22, 1946—page A 158. The writer is a long time employee of General Motors, and for obvious reasons Mr. Woodruff has withheld the signature of "this man in the street."

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 19, 1946.

Congressman Roy Woodruff, Washington, D.C.

Dear Congressman:

As my Congressman is sewed up, body, soul, and breeches with the CIO I do not have strong hopes of getting a reply from him to a letter than I recently wrote him, so I am writing to you because you are a friend of the under-dog.

Isn't there some way of ending these needless strikes? Why should I and thousands of others be kept in idleness when we want to work? This strike has taken the bread out of our mouths. I have carried a union card since shortly after the Spanish-American war and no one knows better than I do all that unions have done for us, shorter hours, better pay and better working conditions. Old Sam Gompers was the greatest labor leader this country has yet produced. He knew how to settle labor disputes between labor and employer without losing weeks of time. How different now! Our unions are being led by a lot of self-seeking ballyhoosers who seem to care little for us. Their pay goes on, strike or no strike, but we have to pay the fiddler. When we strike our pay stops.

Can't Congress do something to stop all this foolishness. I can give you the names of many, many General Motors' workers who are well satisfied with the settlement offer the company has made us. We want to go back to work, but a small and well organized group in our unions won't let us.

Is America still a free country, and if it is why can't those of us who are satisfied with General Motors' offer go back to work? You would be surprised at the number of us who don't like the way our leaders are leading. I have been voting New Deal since the Hoover days, but I am through and so are a lot of others I can name. I don't know how much you could do, but for God's sake do what you can.

Your very truly,

The settlement of present labor disputes will not solve the problem of this employee and his fellow-workers. They know, as all thinking Americans know, that their peace of mind, liberty, and security rests in sound labor legislation enacted by the Congress of the United States. As long as financially-secure labor leaders are permitted to play havoc with the lives of men and women by calling strikes at any hour of the day and night, fear, misery, and unrest cannot be eliminated.

Let us forget—the CIO is responsible for most of the strikes that have prevented America from going ahead with the great reconversion program. This minority group, aided and abetted by their satellite, the Political Action Committee, will attempt again, as they did in the election of 1944, to defeat all Congressmen who dare to oppose their program. The voters of this nation must decide next November whether we are to have a free American Congress, or a Congress controlled by CIO-PAC.

On last May 23, it was reported by Warren Francis, Los Angeles Times correspondent that the Political Action Committee had been reorganized. Elmer Benson, former Minnesota governor, was named the new leader to replace Sidney Hillman, who remains as honorary chairman. Vice-chairmen are Attorney General Robert E. Kenney and Orson Welles, both of California.

Council Confirms Library Nominations

City council yesterday reaffirmed its appeal to the county planners to zone main thoroughfares in unincorporated areas to protect the approaches to cities in the county.

The action follows a resolution recently adopted by the Village Chamber of Commerce asking all city councils in the county to petition county planners for such action. The local council resolution in this regard was adopted by council last fall.

Zoning Matters Given Attention By Councilmen

Zoning matters came before city council last night and occupied much of the time of the board.

Councilman Armand Turonnet reiterated his previous statements that Ordinance 75, governing zoning and land use here, needed a complete revision to bring it down to date and to prevent what he called "spot zoning."

Recommendations of the commission for zone changes were passed without objection, after much discussion by council members, who praised the planners

Mother of Local Singer Injured

Mrs. Edith Barleau, mother of Connie Barleau, singer at the Dunes, was the victim of a freak accident last Monday in which she suffered a fractured hip and arm. Nearing the post office, a large Dalmatian dog, on the run, collided with her, causing her to fall to the sidewalk. She was taken to Dr. P. A. Staleys' office, where it was found that her hip was fractured.

She was later removed to the Riverside Community hospital.

Radio Stations Owe Civic and Moral Obligation to Public, Says Member of Communications Commission, Here

Clifford J. Durr, member of the board of federal communications, and John P. Herne, regional attorney for the same organization, gave a friendly "pat" on the shoulder to KCMJ, Palm Springs' new radio station, during their three-day visit to the Village last week.

Mrs. Marshall Back For Thirteenth Season

Mrs. Margaret Marshall is back in the Village for her 13th season. She recently purchased a home in Santa Barbara, but left the coast to spend the winter months here.

Alan Field Guest Here 20th Season

Alan Field of San Francisco, is in town, a guest at the Desert Inn, and plans to remain here for a month or six weeks. He has been coming to the Village each season for the past 20 years.

"And each year I like it better," he said.

Phone 4444 for Yellow Cabs.

Durr also had something to say about the value of radio programs, advertising and national networks programs. Considered one of the most controversial figures on the commission, he declared that all radio stations owe a civic and moral obligation to the community in which they operate.

FIELD IS WIDE

"The field of advertising which lies between the spoken word on the radio and that of the written word in newspapers and magazines are wide," declared Durr. "One appeal is to the ear and the other to the eye," he said. Advertising on the radio is too fast for some listeners while a person can always go back over a printed message and reread it a second time. This is not possible on the air.

Durr decried the excessive commercialization of radio programs. He added that there was

"Crime Wave" Nipped In Bud By Local Police

Arrest of Youths Reveals Plot To Raid Local Spots

A virtual crime wave was nipped in the bud here Sunday night, with the arrest of Ernie McDougal, 17, of 1146 Illinois Circle, Decatur, Ill., a young "Fagin" with a self-admitted criminal record, who had gathered about him three local youngsters and was to lead them in a series of planned burglaries with the further admission to police that he had instructed his novices to "shoot at the cops' legs, because I don't want to be arrested for murder."

McDougal and the three local youths, whose names are being withheld by the police, were arrested Sunday night at 10:30 o'clock, hiding behind the grandstand at the Field Club here. Brought to the police station by Sgt. Stan Ehler, Charley Murray and Durman Ordway of the local police force, the group was about to be released, when one of the Village boys "tipped" off considerable room for improvement in the type of programs now broadcast. He continued by saying that the major networks like NBC, CBS and others, virtually control the policy and operation of their member stations throughout the country.

MUST PLAY BALL

"In addition," Durr continued, "these networks are in turn practically controlled by seven giant advertising agencies. The networks organizations have to play 'ball' with the agencies and the member radio stations in turn have to play ball with the networks. This situation closely approaches a monopoly in my opinion," the commissioner said.

Durr pointed out that licenses are granted radio stations only when it is found that the community in which they will operate will benefit from its programs.

Durr's home is in Birmingham, Alabama, where his wife and three daughters reside.

Chief August Kettmann about the scheme to burglarize several establishments in the Village. Two hours later McDougal signed a written statement confessing his alleged campaign of burglary.

ADmits RECORD

Now only 17, McDougal admitted to police. Chief Kettmann said, that he had been convicted of burglary in his home town of Decatur, receiving probation on his first offense a year ago, and then serving three months for a second similar conviction.

"We talked about breaking into the shooting gallery and getting a gun out of there," read McDougal's statement. "I told them (the three Palm Springs boys) we had to have the gun to protect ourselves in case the cops came upon us. I told them to shoot at the legs only, that I wouldn't want to kill a cop and be up for murder."

GIVES PROGRAM

His statement went on to outline the procedure for that evening. First they were to break into the skating rink after it closed. Next on the program was to "kick in the window at Youngs Liquor Store after it closed," continued the written confession, police said. Other establishments in which were "scheduled" for attention was a Gilmore filling station at the south end of town and the shooting gallery where a gun was to be obtained.

McDougal said he had arrived in Palm Springs two weeks ago after traveling from Decatur to Amarillo, Texas, by bus. From there he hitch-hiked to Los Angeles and Palm Springs.

Line Shows Fine Films Taken at Look Out Station

Showing amazing color movies of his two pet Ring-tail cats, really relatives of the raccoon and not cats at all, Mr. Winfield Line last Wednesday night in the Fiesta House of the Desert Inn gave a short talk on his experiences as fire warden on the top of Tahquitz peak one summer. Mr. Line and his wife, Dr. Grace Line, took the job in order to learn first-hand how our forests were protected and how fires were detected and later put under control. Every three minutes the entire horizon had to be scanned while on duty, Mr. Line told the group, and duty hours were from six in the morning until sunset. The common belief that fire look-outs on the various mountain peaks sit all day with their legs on a desk, reading novels, is highly exaggerated. It is actually a hard job, especially when there are fires to report.

The Lines were on duty when that disastrous fire burnt up so many hundreds of acres of brush lands in Pinyon flats and Rib-bonwood at the far upper end of Palm Canyon five years ago. Their station on Tahquitz peak was made headquarters for the entire fighting of the fire, and for three days straight they did not get an hour of sleep.

Also shown in the color movie were remarkable close-ups of the venomous Black Widow Spider, some tame chipmunks and ground squirrels, a junco, and shots of herds of deer in Long Valley. In other scenes looking across toward Palm Springs, the entire Coachella Valley was filled with huge billowy clouds, and only the tips of the highest peaks protruded above, like islands in an ocean.

Mr. Line's talk was introduced by Prof. T. D. A. Cockerell, who described how in other countries he had visited, as the Savannah land of Africa and in Siam, forested areas are burned off deliberately to make for richer soil and grassland. Our trees, however, are of such a nature that fire kills them outright. This talk was one in a regular Wednesday night series presented by the Desert Museum.

James Cole to Speak on Joshua Tree Monument

The custodian of Joshua Tree National Monument near Twentynine Palms, Mr. James Cole, will present an illustrated talk on that area this Saturday night, February 9, at 8:00 in the Fiesta House of the Desert Inn, as one in a series of presentations sponsored by the Desert Museum. Mr. Cole was formerly connected with the staff of the Yosemite Museum in Yosemite National Park before coming south to take charge of the newly-created Joshua Tree reserve, where he is now in complete charge.

Joshua Tree National Monument, located on the southern rim of the Mojave Desert overlooking the whole of Coachella Valley, was made a monument by presidential proclamation in 1936 in order to ensure the preservation of at least one large forest of these unique desert tree—yuccas. The Joshua Tree is in reality a member of the lily family, one of the yuccas, and not a cactus, as most visitors believe.

Mr. Cole will show Kodachrome slides to illustrate his talk, and will discuss such scenic areas in the Monument as the famed Wonderland of Rocks, Key's View, the Pinto Basin, and Quail Springs, as well as the Joshua Tree itself.

Don Fry Enjoys That Big Thrill, He Flies Alone

Don Fry, broker with Peter B. Sheptenko's real estate office, had the big thrill this week.

He soloed. After taking lessons from Ed Stevens and Norm Granger at Mirage Air Park for the past few weeks, he went up alone—and came down the same way, successfully.

He's now a full-fledged pilot.

Driver Blamed for Fatal Accident North of Village

George Belitskus, 31, of Twentynine Palms, was deemed responsible for the accident on Highway 99, near the Palm Springs Junction, last week, which resulted in the death of Mrs. Reida Tollett of Shingle City, Calif., by a coroner's jury which heard the story of the tragedy at an inquest in Banning. Belitskus is being held for further investigation.

Mrs. Tollett died en route to a hospital in Redlands after the crash. Her husband and two young sons are still in the hospital.

Harold Simpson, CHP officer, said the accident occurred when Belitskus apparently attempted to turn into the Palm Springs road ahead of Tollett's car.

More Than 4000 Attend Museum During January

During the month of January, nearly 4,000 persons visited the Desert Museum in the east wing of the Welwood Murray Memorial Library building, it was announced last week by Lloyd M. Smith, the Museum's director. By the end of the season, it is anticipated that more than 20,000 visitors will have been recorded.

Later on this month, the annual membership donation drive for the Museum will be undertaken, concurrent with the issuance of a new twenty-page booklet, the first published annual report of the Desert Museum. This booklet, which has an introduction on the desert by Prof. T. D. A. Cockerell and which is profusely illustrated, tells in detail the history of the museum, its boards of trustees, its plans for the future, and a complete list of the 1945 members. A similar publication is planned each year, with listings of all current members and all loans or accessions to exhibit material.

The Desert Museum is financed by donation memberships, ranging from five dollars upward. More detailed information as to how you can help this organization continue next year will be found in this newspaper next week.

San Jose Is Well Represented Here
By Vacation Groups

The Colonial House dining room was the scene of a gay dinner-dance reunion Sunday evening of San Jose residents vacationing here in Palm Springs—and it was old home-town week for Chief of Police August G. Kettmann, who formerly lived in that city.

Chief Kettmann, who has been acting as a one-man chamber of commerce, declared that the presence of 15 prominent citizens of San Jose was just coincidental, nevertheless every moment of his spare time has been used in showing his friends the beauty of the Village.

OUT OF THE FOG

Staying as guests at the Colonial House is Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Oneal. He is a successful attorney and comes of a prominent Santa Clara valley family. Dr. and Mrs. James P. Lovely, well-known doctor and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hirsh, Jr., jeweler, are also staying at that swanky hotel, basking in the sun around the swimming pool.

Also present at the dinner-dance Sunday night were Chief of Police August Kettmann and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Art Carmichael, he is the chairman of the state Republican Central Committee.

LIKE THE VILLAGE

Present there, too, for cocktails and dancing, was Mr. and Mrs. Clair Normanden, Misses Rose and Margaret Geoffroy, and Mrs. Mary Davey. While there they also met Dr. Paul Martin and wife. The Doctor is a well-known specialist in diseases of the ear, eye and throat.

Many more parties and get-togethers are being planned, Chief Kettmann said. All of his former San Jose friends are highly enthusiastic about the beauty of Palm Springs.

THE STORY OF SAN JUCINTO

(Part Two)

The fact that the granitic mass that was later to be mighty San Jacinto did form a rough triangle and that it was bounded by three major fault lines, was very important since it enabled the area to be thrust-up as a three-cornered block. Such an elevated block is termed by the geologists a "horst." If such a block were depressed, as is thought to be the case of the Salton Sink, it would be called a "graben."

While this faulting was going on and the San Jacinto horst was being steadily elevated, erosion continued unabated. This removal and breaking up of the rocks caused a newer formation or deposit to be laid down on top of some of the older ones, especially around the outer edges of the fault block. This deposit is made up mainly of sandstones and shales, and was probably formed during the Pliocene period, some 50 million years ago. These later strata have been named Mt. Eden beds, and are predominantly red in color. Bones of fossil camels, horses, and llamas have been described from them! Most of this red Mt. Eden deposit was later washed away; however, outcrops of it still persist in scattered places near Beaumont.

EROSION CONTINUES

The next few million years saw more erosion and more faulting and still more uplifting. Slowly San Jacinto was being thrust up nearly 11,000 feet above sea-level. Across the San Jacinto Pass to the north, the mighty San Bernardino mountains were rising even higher, and to the southeast were being elevated the contiguous Santa Rosa range. Between the San Andreas Fault and both the San Jacinto's and the Santa Rosa's, a huge "graben" valley was being depressed to form the Salton Sink, destined to hold ancient Lake Cahulla and later the Salton Sea.

While this long narrow graben was sinking and filling with silt washed into it by the Colorado river, more erosional beds were being deposited around the periphery of the San Jacinto block. These date back to the late phases of the last glacial period of the Pleistocene, the great Ice Age, and are actually only about a million years old. They have been called the Bautista Beds, and they, too, consist of shales and sandstones, but no fossils. Outcrops of these Pleistocene Bautista Beds may be seen today east and southwest of Hemet and in Vandeventer Flat along the Palms-to-Pines Highway. Most of them have long been removed by wind and rain, even as the earlier Mt. Eden red beds.

Movements along the various faults have continued right up through recent times. Oddly enough, upon examining the major shocks occurring along all the main faults in Southern California, it will be seen that over six times as many tremors have taken place on the San Jacinto line than on the much larger San Andreas! Apparently the San Jacinto Fault is the most active one in the whole southern part of the state!

ALLUVIAL FANS

Thus is the brief history of San Jacinto, a peak without a peer in America as far as sheerness of face is concerned, and certainly without a rival where beauty and impressiveness are considered. There is no more awe-inspiring sight than the top of San Jacinto in mid-winter, cloaked in deep snow, the white extending down the irregular canyons on all sides to merge with the sparkling streams that flow out of nearly every major ravine.

Erosion is still wearing away at San Jacinto still plucking at the hardy persistent granite core, still washing away the remaining bits of Paleozoic sandstones and shales, still attacking the more recent deposits. This material is daily being carried down from the higher slopes to the desert floor by streams and flash floods during storms.

When these streams pour out onto the lower slopes they deposit their load of silt at the mouth of the canyons, just as a river dumps its load into the ocean and gradually builds up a huge fan-shaped delta at the river-mouth. The "deltas" which are build-up on land, at the mouths of canyons, are called by geologists "alluvial fans" since they are composed of "alluvium," material washed down by the streams. These fans spread out over many acres, and the best example anywhere in the United States is the great alluvial fan of Chino Canyon. Next time you drive out of Palm Springs, take note of this remarkable fan, at the top of which the new aerial tramway will be constructed.

In these alluvial fans, the coarsest and largest rocks and detritus naturally are dropped by the stream first, and the lightest and smallest material is carried farthest, to the outer edge of the fan. Thus, distinct grading in size and weight can be seen if you walk or drive up such a fan.

CANYONS OF SAN JACINTO

There are several very beautiful canyons on the slopes of San Jacinto, each one quite different from the others. As you come through the San Geronio Pass toward Palm Springs, these canyons are named as follows:

Troop 2, Village
Girl Scouts, Work
For Their Badges

Troop II of the Palm Springs Girl Scouts has been making rapid strides in the completion of various fields and in working for proficiency badges, leaders said today.

On January 26, Mrs. William Dean, a local artist living at Smoke Tree Ranch, gave instructions to the troop in the field of art. Mrs. Dean is acting as art consultant for the troop and is helping the girls who are working for their drawing and painting badge.

At the meeting February 1, Mrs. Ted Griffith, a registered nurse and Red Cross instructor, gave a lecture and demonstration on first aid. The troop was enthusiastic in appreciation of Mrs. Griffith's talk.

Mrs. Leo Baker, chairman of the Juliette Low celebration, spoke to the girls on the founder of Girl Scouting and plans for the celebration of the Girl Scout anniversary February 21.

Mrs. Christine McDonald told the group that Caroline Harper was the first Palm Springs Scout to win her proficiency badge in the field of photography.

Snow Creek, Blaisdell, Chino, Tahchevah (or Dry Falls), Tahquitz, Oswit, Andreas, Murray, West Fork, and Palm Canyon proper. Toward Cathedral City are Eagle and Cathedral Canyons, and beyond are Bradley and Magnesia Canyons.

When the tramway is completed and in operation by 1948, the scenic wonders of the higher slopes of San Jacinto will be made available to the public for the first time. Heretofore, they have been inaccessible except by long and arduous trails, either up the steep east slope from Palm Springs, or over the less steep, but still long, trails from Idyllwild. The tramway will begin far up Chino Canyon, at an altitude of about 2700 feet and will ascend to Long Valley, at 8500 feet. The climb in the cable cars will be about 6000 feet, the longest tramway in the world.

Besides the breathtaking panorama at Desert View from the edge of Long Valley out over the whole of the Colorado Desert and the length of the Salton Sea, excellent new skiing areas will be opened up. There is also beautiful Hidden Lake, set like a jewel among the thick stands of pine. And over all this virgin forest-land, mighty San Jacinto Peak itself stands guard over, 2000 feet higher.

The best account of the geological history of San Jacinto is to be found in "Mining in California," 1931, written by Donald Fraser. Most of the data in this resume were obtained from that valuable publication.

Next to San Jacinto Peak, perhaps, as being of especial interest to the desert visitor, is the Salton Sink, which once held ancient Lake Cahulla; that story we shall begin next week.

Third World War And Atomic Bomb Topics of Sermon

"What Shall I Do to be Saved?" will be the topic of Dr. J. A. Macartney's sermon Sunday morning at Community church as he propounds the 11th question in his series of talks on the great questions asked in the Bible.

Dr. Macartney said that he would consider the question not only from the standpoint of personal salvation but also from the viewpoint of what the United Nations Organization must do to be saved from the consequences of another disastrous world war.

The atomic bomb, based on Scriptural prophecies, will be discussed in the sermon.

"The Spirit searcheth all things, passage from I Corinthians will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Spirit" in all branches of The Mother Church.

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A Lesson-Sermon selection from
The Acts reads, "And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by sooth-saying: The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high
God, which shew unto us the way of salvation. And this did she many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her.
And he came out the same hour."

"Science and Health with Key to says, "Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God.

There are neither spirits many nor

Voice of Andes To Be Heard Here

A story of South America will be told the congregation at Community church Sunday night
when a colored movie, "The Voice of the Andes," at Quito,
Ecuador, will tell the story of the South American countries, where this powerful station is spreading the Gospel.

Movies of Pagan Rites Presented

The Rev. Clarence Jackson presented interesting movies at Community church last Sunday night, portraying the religious rites and ceremonies of pagan and heathen people.
Pictures of worship in far-away countries were shown, with interesting discourses on each.
Rev. and Mrs. Jackson, who the jungles of the world, are awaiting passports to return to their chosen field.

Still Long Way From Goal, Word

There is still much to be done,
according to Faye Brainard,
chairman of the Budget Drive
for the Community church.
The campaign is now in full swing, but still is a long distance from the goal. All friends of the church are urged to make their contributions at the earliest date.

All Villagers who enjoy singing are asked to come either on Tuesday at 11:45 to the Frances Stevens school, or Thursday evening at 7:30 to the Community church.

"Call either Mrs. Fay Brainard

Visel, music director of the church, said.

Boy Chorists to Picnic in Mountains

Boy choristers of Community church will have their day in the snow this week-end. Under direction of Mrs. Elmer Markham and Mrs. Holly Visel, they will go to Idyllwild to play in the snow tomorrow.

In 1944 Wyoming ranked eighth petroleum produced and ninth in value of the product.

Junior Singers Entertained at Mrs. Visel's Home

Junior singers of Community church, called the Blue Nightin-gales, were entertained at the home of Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, music director of the church, one night this week. Loretta Brow-ell, Estelle Robles and Shelby
Gray were hostesses. Games were played and a short musical program featured during the afternoon.

Barbara Moore, Peggy Moore and Barbara Greeley were soloists, accompanied by Mrs. Visel.

Bernice Schmidt, director of young people's activities at the church, assisted with the games.
Supper was served by the hostesses.

Backward Party Merry Event for Chancel Choir

There is nothing backwards about the Chancel choir of the Community church — but their party at the home of Mrs. Esther Markham this week. Mrs. Markham and Mrs. Violet Fowler were hostesses at the event.

The entire evening was carried on in reverse. Guests backed their cars into the driveway, they came in the back door and a lot of them had their clothes on wrong-side-to.

An appropriate program of games featured the gathering. In keeping with the nature of the party, dessert was served first and coffee and sandwiches just at the close of the party.

Football Letters Presented Grid Squad at Rally

By DICK CHARLESTON

The presentation of football awards was the highlight of the student assembly January 30 in the auditorium.

Bob Hoover was commended for his tireless efforts as manag- er of the football team, and was awarded a letter, too.

Coach Thompson, reviewing the work of the team, recalled the labor necessary to mold a winning team. He lauded football as a terrific "Give and Take" game, and the benefit received from the hard knocks received.

Eight of the present team will return this fall when practice commences for the 1946 season.

Symphony

By HAROLD MINTZ

Well, folks, get set! Here comes the startling results of last week's poll. The questions asked, as you have undoubtedly forgot- ten, were: "Who is your favorite band leader?" and "What is your favorite song?"

The results were as follows:

Favorite song: "Symphony." The runner-up was "It's Been a Long, Long Time."

Favorite band leader: Tommy Dorsey. Runners-up were Harry James and Xavier Cugat.

However, from latest reports, it's beginning to look as if ev- erybody's theme song for the week-end will be "Let It Snow."

Could any of you have voted more than once? The vote had to be counted several times to fig- ure out how there could be 285 votes, when there are only 235 students here at Palm Springs high! Oh well, we have our an- swers.

Record Set at High School Assembly When all but One Student Body Officer Maintains High Scholarship Rating

The assembly held last Thursday, January 31, brought a new record to Palm Springs high school. Around four years ago the board of trustees passed the following rule to promote scholastic standards in the school: "All commissioners shall be members of the Associated Student Body and shall have made a school average of at least a 'C' grade. If a commissioner does not maintain a 'C' average at the quarter and this average is not brought up to standard by the end of the semester, he shall be automatically re- moved from office."

At first, the student body felt this rule too strict. Officers were changed every marking period and students became disgusted with the continued changes. As time went on the student council realized the advantages of the rule and went a step farther in the requirements for officers. The council amended the constitution once more so that the rule now applied to all officers. All officers in the school must make at least "C" grades in all subjects to be eligible to hold office.

This last semester, for the first time since the ruling was made, all members of the Student Coun- cil retained their positions except one. They were as follows: John Wilson, president of the student body; Joe Brummitt, vice-presi- dent of the student body; Carol Burket, commissioner of girls' publicity; Bob Hoover, commis- sioner of boys' publicity; Julie Martineau, commissioner of fi- nance; Tommy Peterson, com- missioner of athletics; Bill Carey, commissioner of interior; John Klug, senior class president; Barbara Croft, junior class president; Betty Ann Lilley, sophomore class president; Gillar Boyd, pres- ident of the Letterman's club; and Joanne Hookey, president of G.A.A.

It has been proved that these members have held their respon- sibilities seriously enough to maintain their grade averages to serve their school.

Musical Tea to Be Presented at H. S. Auditorium

By DICK CHARLESTON

As one of the colorful musical highlights of the current school year, the Palm Springs high school girls' glee club, under the direction of Ruth A. Ashcroft, head of the music department, will present a program next Wednesday, February 13, at 4 o'clock in the high school audi- torium. The entire public is most cordially invited. The admission price will be fifty cents. After the musical portion of the pro- gram, tea will be served.

An original Chinese musical playlet, dramatic in treatment, prepared by the girls glee club, is slated for the program, as well as numerous other musical offer- ings.

The girls participating in the program are: Marilyn Crockett, Colleen Moore, Nancy Nye, Ann St. Clair, Ann Oliver, Patsy Baugh, Andrey Bentsen, Patricia Fowler, Mary Jo Graefe, Mar- jorie Porter, Elanne Purnell, Bar- bara Thompson, Vivian Gautiel- lo, Marilyn Miller, Jenny Strite, Sandra Veano, Mary Louise Klug and Hazel Veith.

As an assisting artist, Don Mi- chael, a tenor, will also take part in the program. The musical ac- companyment will be provided by Harpist D' Esta Williams.

As the entire tea is to be in a Valentine motif, the school au- ditorium is to be trimmed with red and white decorations, sym- bolic of the Valentine season.

Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. Wilmoth Thompson and Mrs. Holly Visel.

GAZOOZIT

By HOOK AND DeLORSE

No cracks please! And quit laughing, too! Here we are, two little gals with a chance at writ- ing the Gazoozit and it's just like being in a dark woods. Woe is us! We will most likely die a thou- sand deaths before it is over—but we are going to take a chance —so hold tight kiddies and listen close.

Friday night was the basketball game with Perris. Our guys played a wonderful game, but nevertheless we lost to them 29-28. Did you notice Art Jurado piling up those points for us? But have you ever noticed Tom- my when he is guarding another player and keeps saying "Woof"? Nuff said.

After the game everyone came to Elanne Purnell's where she gave a going-away party for Dick Moseley, who left us for the Coast Guard, Sunday. Good luck, Dick, and may you not miss school or the good old Palm Springs weath- er too much. (We work for the chamber of commerce on the side.)

Seen at the party were C. J. and Wilson, Galzie and Bonnie Sue (by the way, Bonnie, when is Les coming home?), Whitey and Virginia Miller (boys, the line forms at her right—what a gal!), Jim Searles and Sally Robinson, Jim Wills and Jane Sponsler (could this be serious?), Mabel Potter and Dale and the two poor souls who are trying to write this were there too with Hoover and Jones. None of our parties seem to be a success without a certain number of stags and this party was no exception. Those strong and mighty men of our high school who came stags (what's wrong guys—got cold feet or something?) were Tommy Peter- son, Don Williams, Joe Brummitt, Gillar Boyd, Bill Oakman, and MacKinney. It was a wonderful party, Elanne—for once someone gave a party where everyone was invited and not just a selected group of people.

What's this we hear about Dixie Smith and Dick Moseley go- ing steady over the week-end? That is the shortest one we have ever heard of. We hear Bill Oak- man and Carol Burket decided to call it an end too—but that's another story and a long one at that.

Don Omlin and Bob Lineau were home over the week-end. About the only time Trudy ever smiles any more is when Bob is home or on leave. But do you blame her? We know we don't. You'll never know, Trudy, just how lucky you are to have Bob home every other week-end. Don- nie is expecting his long leave some time in March or April, and hopes to be out of the service be- fore long.

The three little Hudiburgs have left us for Elsinore. We'll miss you three, and we know a few people who are going to miss the car most of all—just where are you dear people going to be for transportation? It's a shame some people have to like others for what they can get out of them.

Special for Joe Brummitt! Joe will you please wake up to the fact that there is a certain little freshman girl who is tearing her eye teeth out over you? She's cute, too.

Could it be true what we hear about Dewey and Betty Wright? Ask Joey Flavin for all the de- tails.

Saturday night was a bad one for the weaker sex (?). It seems quite a few of the male popula- tion went into town for the De- Molay meeting. Boyd, Wilson, Wills, Klug, Holderman, and Wil- liams were of the many that went. What about that, boys? And what a time of the night to come home, too. But even with half the male population out of town, Saturday night still proved to be full of events. Events that could come out so nice, too.

Seen at the show (good, huh?) were Hoover and Candy, Brum- mitt and Sally, Joey and Barbara, DeLorse and Tommy, and we suppose quite a few others, but we didn't get to see "ya."

Burket had a small slumber party over her way for her girl friend, Donna Mae Ryan. C. J. and Hook were the other two members of the little gathering. Bill Oakman, you were up to your old tricks again, huh? Ask him what he heard. For shame, Bill. Can't we ever talk in private anymore? But it's really funny. Really, Saturday night was a quiet one—but so-o-o nice.

We have a lot of new girls in our fair alma mater. Look them up. Barbara Beeton, Natalie West- erman, Lorraine Lovett, and Beth Summerlee. Beth was here last year for a while and she has come back once again. Welcome girls, we hope you like us.

Why doesn't someone ask Hoover about his poem he wrote or heard someplace, starting out with "Twinkle, twinkle little star." He sits in World History doing everything but World His- tory while Mrs. Henderson tears her hair.

We hear Jarvis had a small male party Saturday night. Whitey, Galzie, Jones and Landry and a few others were some of the people there.

Is Benson drafted or is he spending a vacation in L.A.? Not that we blame him a bit.

We noticed four pretty girls down over the week-end from North Hollywood. What's wrong Klug and Oakman, did you get

After the show Saturday night several people adjourned to Erica's where they ate a little, danced a little, and talked a lot. Among those chewing the rag were Erica and Tom, Phylliss and Paul, Cherie and Ralph, Dulcy and Don, and Shirley Renville and Lee Bergwell.

Sunday, Phylliss and Paul got ambitious and decided to hike up to Dry Falls, which they did. On the return trip, that miniature cloudburst caught up with them and is resulting in a minor cold for Paul.

We have finally run out of things to say, so before you come after us with a gun, we'll close for now.

ON THE WARPATH

By HARVEY GORCESTER

Perris came to Palm Springs the first of February to try their luck with the maroon and white. It was a close, fast game, as all games go, near the end of the season. Perris is the first team this season to score before Palm Springs. Trask, forward, dropped a free throw. Perris seemed to have kept one ahead of the In- dians all through the game. It ended with a score of 28-29, it can't be any closer. Peterson and Brummitt were out for blood for five beautiful fouls were called on each of them. Jurado was high point man of the game, with 15 points, against Real's 10.

The "B" game was also held between Palm Springs and Per- ris before the Varsity play-off.

Perris won with a score of 46-22. Flynn was high point man, with four field goals, on the Perris team. Weichadel, with five field goals and two free throws. Palm Springs went to Hemet on February 5 to try their luck for the first league game in Hem- et territory. By the end of the first half, Palm Springs had not played their usual hard game and the score was 10-12, in Hem- et's favor.

Peterson was high point man of the game with 14 points, to Richard's 9. Palm Springs broke loose in the second half and made 16 points to Hemet's 11, but the Bulldogs could take a bigger bite, and chewed up 34 to Palm Springs' 26.

Five Merits! Here's How to Get Them Easily

By CHERIE MASHBURN

Five merits! Do any of you humble students dare to over- look these two wonderful words? Of course not! We see hopeful looks on your downtrodden faces already! And so we shall spill the beans without further frivo- lous foolishness!

You may earn five merits a semester by completing the simple task of writing one article a week for your, "Smoke Signals." Sounds easy, doesn't it? And definitely is! So why not do a bit and earn merits at the same time?

Mrs. Helen Kansky, advisor of the staff, will hold a meeting, Monday, February 11, during ac- tivity period, in Room 1, to give the students information on writ- ing for the paper and recruiting new reporters.

We have great plans for the Smoke Signals and we want you to help us carry them out, so don't forget that meeting, and remember the five merits you'll earn!

Saint Valentine, Day of Hearts, To Be Observed Here

The festival of hearts, the day of romance, is the fourteenth day of February — St. Valentine's Day.

Now, it is a day of social pleasure, marked by parties and the exchange of gifts and "valentines." In olden times, however, the customs of this day were taken quite seriously by the young men and women. It is an ancient saying the birds choose their mates on St. Valentine's Day. It was a custom that the first person of the opposite sex that one meets on St. Valentine's Day was to be his or her sweetheart or "valentine" for the year — perhaps for life. Many young men and women cheated by hiding up the person of their desire and by, then they would claim that this person was the first they had seen. If this was ever discovered, the man or woman would be an outcast for the rest of his or her life. One such case is recorded in the annals of history which states that a man, upon finding that his sweetheart cheated for him, felt it was his duty to kill a person guilty of such a sin—so he did.

According to the popular belief, a man named St. Valentine founded the now popular St. Valentine's Day. This, however, is not true. Historians claim that the popular holiday is a modified form of an ancient Roman festival called the "Lupercalia," which occurred February 15, and was something like a carnival. Many people believe one of the men named St. Valentine (there have been seven men who have had that name) was accustomed to going from house to house leaving food and clothing on the doorsteps of the poor, and that is how the custom of sending gifts and "valentines" developed. Historians also denounce this legend just as they denounce all the legends that any man named St. Valentine had the slightest thing to do with the popular holiday we now celebrate as St. Valentine's Day.

High School Smoke Signal

Maybe Next Time He Had Better Try 'Sympathy'

By HAROLD MINTZ

As I nonchalantly strolled into the main office the other day (whistling "Symphony"), I was greeted by the tall, dignified figure of Daisy. Upon noticing me, she said in a calm, sweet voice, "Hey, stop whistling in the office."

I said, "Huh?"
"Don't you raise your voice to me. The idea—walking into the office whistling 'Symphony.' If you must whistle, why don't you whistle something I like?"

I said, "But haven't you heard? The school voted 'Symphony' their favorite song."
"Talking back, eh? Well, we have little chores for people who talk back. Yours will be to clean out the Lost and Found."

"No, not that. Anything but that. Beat me, starve me, send me to jail, do anything you like, but don't make me clean out the Lost and Found."

"Oh, get up off your knees and start cleaning it out."

"I won't do it," I replied.

FIVE SECONDS LATER

Well, here I am. Let's see what's here:

Blue jumper with white lace.

4 rulers.

Brown leather jacket—slightly used—approximately size 32.

Glasses case, minus glasses.

Name on it is Dr. J. C. Guider.

English paper on conjunctions—the answers are all wrong.

First year Algebra book. I can't blame the guy for losing it.

Green repeater pencil.

Black pen—not fountain.

Brown cowboy boots—with hole in the side. Think I'll try them on for size. Ouch! There's a nail sticking up.

Math book No. 000021.

"Story of Civilization."

Another one.

China—1943.

English III notebook with all work complete. Grade B-plus.

Messy notebook—it belongs to someone with name Dick Mann.

Another messy one belonging to Lloyd Brooks.

A neat one for a change, belonging to Ted Gwin.

Old typewriter cover.

Spiral notebook with biology work.

Ditto—belonging to Joanne Wilkes.

Another spiral full of secret code—oh, no, it's shorthand.

And another Spiral full of dramatics.

World history test paper—grade F-plus.

Ivanhoe—by Sir Walt Scott.

History of France, by Duruy.

Slightly flat and dilapidated volleyball.

Kempaen Ruberoid Cement (glue to you).

Pair of riding trousers—approximately size 28 or 30.

Brown gabardine jacket with

Don't Read This; You'll Be Sorry

Mr. Weeks: The former ruler of Russia was called the Czar. His wife was called the Czarina. What were their children called?
Smart Alec: Czardines.

Wife: Herkimer, you missed that red light.
Herkimer: Well, what do you want me to do? Go back and hit it?

Mr. Summers: Give me the formula for water.
Dummy: H I J K L M N O.

Mr. Summers: Why, that's not the formula for water.
Dummy: Yes, it is. Yesterday you told us the formula was H to O.

Freshman: Coach Thompson, will you please flood the field?
Coach: Why should I do that?
Freshie: So you can put me in as a sub.

A kindergarten teacher, testing the general knowledge of her class, laid a fifty-cent piece on her desk and asked, "Can anyone in the room tell me what this is?"
A small boy in the front row leaned forward, examined the coin and said, "Tails."

Every argument has two sides. If they would add two more then everyone might get a square deal.

The moral of this little episode is: Never whistle "Symphony" in the main office.

There are many varieties of greyhounds, but all are not tall and slender. The Italian greyhound, for instance, is a dwarf, and is kept as a pet.

Gym Shorts

By DIANE HELLER

In a G.A.A. meeting called on February 1 by President Joanne Hookey, the main business was the G.A.A.A. carnival scheduled for February 22.

A committee was appointed to find an orchestra for the dance, one of the main events of the evening. Those appointed were Diane Heller and Vivian Gaudiello. Another committee was assigned the job of making the penny pitch. The committee consisted of Joanne Hookey, Shirley Renville, Mary Louise, Klug, and Sally Robinson. A ticket committee, headed by Mary Jo Graefe, with Paula Kay Hayward, Jackie Kingsbury and Vickey Matloff, will be in charge of taking the votes as well as selling tickets.

Last Wednesday we had another of our thriller, diller, hockey games with DeLorse's and Shirley's teams combined against Hookey's and Julie's. Julie (strong arm) Martineau scored two goals, making the final results of 2-0. Something has to be done.

We hope that we find everyone out on the field every Wednesday and if enough of you come out we will be able to have gym periods vs. other gym periods. Come on, kids.

From Head to Toe

By BARBARA K. SCHILLY

Sleeves . . . seem to have been a bit on the selfish side this season, and have managed to capture almost all the attention in regard to fashion news. First it was cap sleeves that caught the woman's eye and became a new vogue . . . then it was Dolman and under-arm fullness that was the talk of the sleeve world . . . Now . . . tucks . . . puffs . . . and full sleeves are beginning to gain popularity . . . and once in a while, we will actually see a dress that has attached to it, regular ordinary sleeves . . . though they are becoming a rarity, it seems.

Tucks at the shoulder of the sleeve, or puffs of any kind, have been strictly taboo for quite a few years now . . . but today, are slowly veering back into the fashion spotlight. Your reporter has seen a few daring models that have predominate tucks at the shoulder line . . . and it does look a bit strange to an eye that has been trained, over a period of time, to frown upon any kind of shoulder fullness, but it's merely a matter of becoming accustomed to the style again.

The latest introduction into this talk of sleeves . . . is one special variety of the new full sleeve . . . the sleeve that has the shape of a barrel. The bulk of the fullness is toward the elbow . . . then the sleeve tapers off to a regular wrist width.

This style was first introduced on fur coats . . . the sleeves could be worn straight . . . or . . . a piece of elastic inserted at the wrist, and the sleeve could be pushed up to the elbows. Now, this style is creeping into regular fabric coats and suits. It's an unusual twist and by the time spring is here . . . will probably be a popular vogue.

In dresses, the new short puffed push-up sleeve is making quite a sensation. The sleeve is full, and actually comes down to or below the elbow . . . but is bound by elastic . . . and is smartest when worn pushed up.

Of course . . . the standard regulation old time "just plain sleeve" is still quite acceptable . . . but just not quite so chic at this time . . . as all the fashion world is quite conscious of what new twist can be given to making something new and different . . . and each designer is vying with the other to see who can present

38 Participate In Hike Up Into Tahquitz Canyon

Thirty-eight people took part in last Saturday afternoon's Desert Museum-sponsored nature walk to Tahquitz Falls. Parking their cars at the end of Ramon road, the group started the field trip along the wash in order to see at close range some of the desert trees and shrubs growing in that area. Among the birds seen on the walk were the Phainopepla, the Anna Hummingbird, the Black-chinned Hummingbird, the Verdin, and the White-throated Swift. The brilliant red Chuperosa or Desert Honeycuckoo, was in full bloom along the trail, and farther up the canyon the Desert Cucumber or Brandegea was found covered with a mass of white blooms. The various Mallows are about to bloom and should be in evidence within the next two weeks.

This Saturday the Museum has scheduled an all-day auto caravan to Joshua Tree National Monument, and next week will be a hike to Dripping Springs, a little-known but unusual little canyon.

Before this contest is completed . . . we will undoubtedly become the victims of some very bizarre and outlandish modes in sleeves (remember the extreme puffs of a few years back) . . . however . . . being women and what we are . . . we'll probably have to try everything that is offered us . . . and after all, that is what makes dressing so much fun, isn't it.

Niece of Village Woman Succumbs To Crash Injuries

Word was received here Monday by Mrs. Hortense Murray, 1189 Buena Vista road, that Mrs. K. S. Barnett, niece of Mrs. Daisy Love of this city, had succumbed to her injuries.

Mrs. Barnett, wife of a prominent Denver business man, was injured in an accident at Colorado Springs as she and her husband started out on a three-week vacation trip. Mrs. Love, well known here, was notified and departed for the resort to be with her niece.

Mrs. Barnett failed to rally from the shock of the accident and died Sunday, according to word here.

Mrs. Love is expected back in the Village soon.

Edmund Jaeger III, Unable to Present Speech

Mr. Edmund C. Jaeger of Riverside College, noted desert author, was unable to appear last Saturday as scheduled to give a talk on "Some Interesting Desert Characters I Have Met." A telegram arrived a few hours before the lecture time, announcing that he had been taken ill with influenza and would not be able to come down to Palm Springs. A recent check revealed that he is well on the way to recovery and will be back teaching again early this week. The talk has been postponed until next month.

In place of Mr. Jaeger, Mr. Winfield Line gave a talk on the local canyons of the Palm Springs area, and showed a series of beautiful Kodachrome slides of each scenic area. His pictures of Dripping Springs, sometimes called Fern canyon or Wentworth canyon, were especially colorful. Mr. Line himself has personally hiked up every one of these canyons and has led several Desert Museum field trips into them. No one who has seen pictures of these nearby regions, each one so different from the next, can fail to realize what a wealth of scenic splendor is to be had in and about the Village.

To complete the extemporaneous program, Miss Helen Clatworthy showed a reel of color movies taken by her father, Mr. Fred Payne Clatworthy, noted pioneer color photographer. These included breathtaking panoramic shots of the dunes east of Palm Springs, covered with a mass of red verbenas, interspersed with white primroses and yellow sunflowers.

Villager Aboard Ship Playing Big Part in Victory

Emery E. Sawyer, gunner's mate, third class, of Palm Springs, is now at Tsingtao, China, on the USS Jason, now anchored off Pagoda Pier at the Chinese city, providing headquarters for the senior officers in that area.

The Jason, a repair ship, serviced ships of all types during and following the war. To speed the vital job of returning fighting ships to battle, she was stationed just behind the front lines at Purvis Bay in the Solomons, Manus, and Ulithi before the surrender.

"Well done" commendations came to the Jason for her work on the USS Lexington and the USS Randolph, from Admiral W. F. Halsey and Fleet Admiral C. W. Nimitz, respectively.

Some of the famous large carriers repaired by the Jason include the USS Essex, Bennington, Bunker Hill, Enterprise, Franklin, Lexington, Saratoga, Shangri-La, Ticonderoga, Wasp, Yorktown, Hancock, Hornet and Intrepid.

Girl Scout House Profits by Gifts From Army Posts

Through the courtesy of Col. Rex Beach, commanding officer of the army air field, and Lt. Stanley M. Rosenblum of Torney General hospital, the Girl Scout Little House is thriving these days.

Many useful and much-needed gifts have been received from the two army installations, ranging from a piano to dishes, trays and sports equipment. First aid kits from Torney are among the useful articles received.

Through their leaders, the Girl Scouts of Palm Springs expressed their heartfelt appreciation for these gifts this week.

Carlos M. Ortega Discharged After 3 Years in Navy

Carlos Max Ortega, son of Vidal Ortega, Jr., has been discharged from the U.S.N.R. at Terminal Island separation center, Capt. F. R. Walker, commanding officer, said this week.

He enlisted in the navy at San Bernardino on November 6, 1942, and saw 28 months of sea duty, most of the time on the U.S.S. Dobbin. His shore duty in the United States was at the U.S. Naval hospital at Oakland, Calif. He was in several of the operations in the Pacific Theatre.

He wears the Asiatic and American Theatre ribbons.

Ortega, a pharmacist's mate, second class, plans to attend a college of pharmacy on his return to civilian life.

Allen Roberts' Music Delights Sans Souci Fans

Entertaining throngs nightly at the Sans Souci at Indio is Allen Roberts, noted organist who has been heard on the air over all three big networks and at many Los Angeles cafes.

He has been on many sponsored programs on NBC, CBS and Mutual and many of the diners and dancers at the Sans Souci heard him on the air.

He is not only a fine organist and pianist, but has led his own band for many years and has a reputation as an arranger. He is also a composer and some of his published numbers are "I Will Be Waiting," "Girl With the Rose in Her Hair," "So Say So" and others.

In Los Angeles he was at the Mona Lisa room for four months, at the Melrose Cavern eight months, and at the Star Lite room two months.

He is a graduate of the University of Southern California.

Laxity in Homes Cause of Current Crime Wave, Claim

By MRS. JOHN S. LAPP

Monday's meeting of the Palm Springs Woman's club was well attended.

During the business meeting Mrs. Harold Hicks made an appeal for used clothing for the Victory Clothing Drive now in progress. Clothing may be bundled up and given to your local mail carrier, or left at the post office, chamber of commerce, or the schools.

CITES STATISTICS

The speaker of the day, Dr. Paul de River, formerly chief brain surgeon at the Polyclinic hospital in New York and now psychiatric advisor for the Los Angeles police department, held the interest of his audience in a marked degree.

He cited some appalling statistics on the subject of crime among young people—and adults; and traced the causes thereof. He put the responsibility directly on the home, and the parents. When one realizes that at the present time 1,000,000 families in these United States have juveniles confined in institutions for crimes against society, it is a matter of great interest to all parents to learn the causes of such a deplorable condition.

TRACES CAUSES

According to Dr. de River, the prime causes are lack of supervision, lack of discipline, lack of religious training and lack of un-

Barbara Clark Becomes Bride of Boyd H. Crandall

Miss Barbara Scott Clark, daughter of Sawyer Wells Clark and the late Dr. Ada Scott Morton Clark of San Francisco, exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony with Boyd Huntington Crandall, son of Charles Huntington Crandall of San Diego, last Thursday evening in Saint Cecilia Chapel, Mission Inn, Riverside.

Dr. Franklin Ellis officiated at the candle-light ceremony, before the impressive altar in the chapel. Traditional wedding music was played on the organ.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of aqua shade, and a rosebud halo. She carried white orchids and a white prayer book.

Mrs. Don Tremaine Smith of Glendale, the matron of honor, wore royal blue with an orchid corsage.

Eugene M. Cousart, Jr., of Philadelphia, arrived from that city last week, to act as best man.

The wedding supper was served around a beautiful centerpiece of pink rosebuds and green lilacs in the Spanish room of the Inn.

After a motor trip to scenic Flagstaff, Arizona, and a two-week visit at Palm Springs, the newlyweds will reside in Glendale.

Understanding on the part of parents and teachers. His recommendations for the upbringing of children include truth in answering their questions, love and affection, sympathetic interest in their problems, religious education (which he said was certainly as important as a balanced diet) and care in the selection of their teachers, associates, and leaders in youth organizations, and in their entertainment, especially moving pictures. He advocates psycho-analysis for all parents and teachers.

Another contributing factor in the present crime wave, he said, was the political misuse of the office of parole officer which he believes should be a civil service job rather than by appointment. Many confirmed criminals gain paroles under the present system, he said, and they gain control of juveniles in various ways.

INTEREST IS HIGH

He touched briefly upon the increase of crime involving returning service men and said that in the majority of cases they were psycho-neurotic cases which were released too soon from government hospitals.

The lively question period which followed his talk indicated the interest with which the audience followed Dr. de River's talk.

During the tea hour many of the members availed themselves of the opportunity to meet Dr. de River.

Mrs. Milton Hicks was tea chairman for the day.

Honeymooners Bask in Sunlight, Enjoy Inn Courts

The tennis courts were kept busy at the Desert Inn over the week-end by those star honeymooners, Mr. and Mrs. Voltaire Perkins of Los Angeles. The marriage of this popular couple at the Wilshire Methodist church on January 31, came as a complete surprise to their many friends.

The lovely bride, formerly Arlene Spear of San Antonio, Texas, came to Los Angeles two years ago, where she was very active in war work. Voltaire (known as Los Angeles' most popular bachelor), an attorney, organized the "Buck of the Month Club" and was active in wartime USO work.

After their Palm Springs honeymoon, this attractive couple will make their home in Los Angeles, where much post nuptial entertaining awaits them.

That group of pretty girls who caused so much head turning in the dining room of the Desert Inn last Friday evening were all from Scripps College, and were being entertained at dinner by Mrs. Hubert Hudson of Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Hudson (aunt of co-ed Virginia Vose), flew in from Oklahoma City, accompanied by Virginia's mother, Mrs. Charles Vose, in order to be at the Inn while the girls had their mid-term vacation.

Included in Mrs. Hudson's party, aside from Mrs. Vose and Virginia, were Misses Patricia Manning of Denver, Jean Gran- nington of Middlebury, Conn., Gene Bird of Washington, D.C., Ruth Kasch of Ukiah, Calif., and Rosalind Reed of Paraguay.

Harry Wagners Entertain Many Friends at Home

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagner, who recently bought a unit of the Nilon estate on Camino Paro- celsa, plan on making Palm Springs their permanent home. They are living here and plan to entertain their many friends, most of whom are eastern resi- dents. At present they have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hart of Milwaukee, Wis., who arrived last week and who like the Village variety of weather so much, they'll un- doubtedly become Palm Springs boosters for keeps.

Hero of Iwo Jima Enjoys Vacation At La Paz Ranch

Capt. Robert L. Jones, having just completed three years hard fighting in the marine corps, now is a civilian again and has come to La Paz Guest Ranch for a complete rest before re-entering business. Although not sure he will continue his former business, he has been interested in Palm Springs local papers, as he formerly owned and operated the Vallejo Evening News before being called into uniform.

The marine officer wears the Bronze star for his heroic achieve- ment during invasion and cap- ture of Iwo Jima, and the Purple Heart for injuries received there. He was attached to the famous 5th division, which won added distinction by having several men in their group raise the flag on the island—an accomplishment which has been pictured and commemorated in many forms since.

EXCITING NEWS

At the time of the exciting announcement telling of the Ameri- can victory after nearly 38 days of fighting, Capt. Jones was lying on the hospital ship anchored just off shore. He still recalls that as having been one of the most thrilling moments of the war for himself and all the injured men lying on the ship. It was such an important announcement that the announcer fairly shouted this over the loudspeaker, "This is something special. Our flag has just been raised over Mt. Suri- bachi, and it's sure a great sight, men!"

Capt. Jones is a native of Oak- land, but says, "Palm Springs is the best spot in California at this time of year." He will terminate his two weeks' stay at La Paz this week.

KITCHEN TRICK

SPARERIBS ARE GOOD just plain roasted but try this for a very delicious change. Use equal parts of soya sauce, molasses and water. Baste ribs with mixture. A chopped onion will make it that much better.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

BUTTONHOLES ARE HARD to make at best so try this temper-saver. Mark the buttonhole line with colorless nail polish. You may then cut through line when dry and nary a ravel will appear.

RECIPE

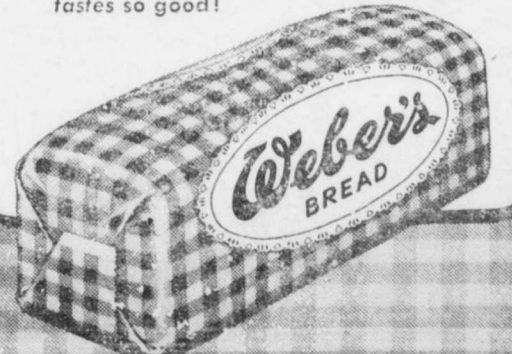

CONTINENTAL LAMB SHOULDER

3 lbs. lamb shoulder, 1/2 c. parsley, cut up
2 c. canned tomatoes 1 tsp. salt
3 cloves 1/2 tsp. pepper
1 onion, sliced 1/4 c. olive oil
1 tbsp. sugar

Rub meat with olive oil, then sprinkle with sugar. Brown well on all sides, add onion, parsley, cloves, tomatoes and seasoning. Bake in Dutch oven until tender. Serves 4.

SANDWICH SUGGESTION

FOR PARTY sandwiches or hearty sandwiches, choose the blue-gingham wrapped Weber's loaf. Fresh, tender fine-textured Weber's Enriched White Bread makes the perfect base for any spread. And besides, Weber's Bread tastes so good!

Loans to Veterans Explained at Local Legion Gathering

How veterans of World War II may obtain loans of $7500 for construction or purchase of homes and $15,000 for acquisition of farms, the money to be loaned on a 20-year period at a low rate of interest, was explained to members of the Owen Coffman Post of the American Legion here Tuesday night by Samuel Fleischman of the Veterans Welfare Board of California.

Addressing the Legionnaires at the Fiesta house of the Desert Inn, Mr. Fleischman disclosed that the welfare board now has a total of $130,000,000 to be loaned to veterans for homes and farms.

NEW AID PLANNED

Further liberalization of the loan requirements, with a possible greater reduction in the interest rate which now is four per cent, may come out of the present session of the state legislature.

At present the loans on homes will not be made if the appraised value exceeds $10,000, Fleischman said, explaining that the Welfare Board is anxious to keep a veteran's investment at a figure which he can pay off. A showing of hands of veterans now interested in home construction in Palm Springs disclosed nearly 20.

TELLS OF HOMES

Following the talk by the Welfare Board official, Barney Hinkle, member of the post and a well-known Palm Springs realtor, told of plans already completed for a group construction of homes for veterans. He said that in one subdivision here arrangements have been made for the erection of an initial group of 20 homes by veterans, this procedure reducing the cost of the lot and construction. He strongly advised all veterans to look into these possibilities.

To make a study of the proposal, Post Commander Harold Lienau appointed a committee to be headed by Charles St. George with two or three other members.

PROGRAM SUCCESS

Outstanding success of the Air Scouting program sponsored by the Legion Post was reported. Forty-two youths already have signed up for the advanced Scouting training and the total is expected to approach 75. Sufficient boys are on the rolls now to form one basic squadron of 38 boys and a second squadron is believed possible. The boys are under the direction of Joe Carraway.

Plans for a benefit radio station premier here the night of February 20, featuring the Frank Sinatra show, were announced to the Post. The revenue from sale of tickets to the show will go into the Wars Memorial Fund.

Vice-Commander G. K. Sanborn reported that the Post membership now is nearing the 250 mark, with between five and 10 new members being voted into membership at each meeting.

Notes From the O'Donnell Golf Course

Entries for the Eleventh Annual Golf Tournament will be closed Saturday, February 9, and all local winter guests desiring to compete should file an entry at once. The field is so large that the committee has arranged that local golfers wishing to enter the events may play their rounds on Wednesday and Thursday, February 13 and 14—their scores to count the same as though played on Saturday and Sunday. Any winter guests wishing to play in the senior event, Friday, February 15, should also file their entry. Remember—no post entries after Saturday, February 9. Pairings will be made on that date. This event has become so popular that it will be necessary to close the course to all outside play. Only contestants will be allowed to play or practice this tournament week.

The senior event has now become one of the most popular events of the winter season. It is of as much importance as the championship proper. Entries to date were 92 and will close at 110 players. Jim O'Neal, Annandale Golf Club, won this event last year with a card of 34-35-69. William Taverner was runner-up with a card of 72. Classes in this event will be as follows: Class A (50-56), B (57-61), and C (62-years and up). Remember—entries for this event close February 9.

Harry Givan, sportsman and amateur golf star, who has just been awarded "Seattle's Man of the Year for 1945," has arrived in town and is practicing daily. Bob Hope, who recently turned in a card of 66, is very keen and will be in one of the featured foursomes in the championship event. John Dawson, past Desert champion, is playing very well—Bruce McCormick, present California State champion, is due to win the event.

The Annual Calcutta, which will be held in the lobby of the Desert Inn, Friday, February 15, will far surpass any previous one according to word received from Jack French, the chairman. The sale of players will run 25, including the field. Such outstanding players as Buck Weaver, twice champion; Jack, Gaines, three time winner; Carl Haymond, local player, whose rounds are consistently under par; Jim Clark, Southern California player who has been winning all the sweepstakes in L.A.; Roger Kelly, former state champion; Mac Hunter, son of famous Willie Hunter; Harry Givan from Seattle, John Dawson and many other big names will be auctioned off.

Holding a tournament at any club, naturally the first thing that comes to the attention of the committee is the local rules. Now these will follow the rules on the back of the new score card recently made up by Carl Haymond, one of the rules committee. Attention must be called to the rule "Improve Lie"—improve lie on the fairway by placing the ball not over six inches from original position, with club only, not nearer the hole and retaining original line of flight of ball. Penalty, disqualification.

B. F. Shearer, chairman of prizes for the coming event, announces that most of the prizes will be golf clubs. So far, he has two sets of Kenneth Smith's woods, a full set of Tommy Armour irons, and expects to have at least six more sets of irons for prizes. These are something when golf clubs are still unavailable.

Invitations have now been mailed out for the Eleventh Women's Invitational Tournament which will be held April 1, 2 and 3.

Cowboy Settles Argument on the Loudest Outfit

The colors of the desert are rivaled by the brilliance of the western costumes worn by horseback enthusiasts at the Desert Inn these days.

Taking first honors in this field are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gibson (of Gallo wine fame) who are down from their ranch in St. Helena for a three-week sojourn at the Inn. However, they had real competition this week when James H. Carmine (he's the Philco radio tycoon from Ryedall, Pennsylvania, who has been vacationing at the Inn with Mrs. Carmine for the past several weeks), appeared at the luncheon ride in a purple and gold model that caused even the Gibsons to look twice. Votes were divided as to which of these two costumes was to take the honors for the day, when up rode a cowboy from the opposite direction, and pulling his horse to a quick stop, called to Jim Carmine, "Say Mister, I'll trade you this horse for that shirt!" Bob Gibson bowed out on that one, but says that he has an outfit for the next ride that will settle all arguments.

"The World our Parish," will be the sermon theme of the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth at the Episcopal church of St. Paul's in the Desert, Sunday. This is a special service arranged by the National Council to launch the six-month campaign for the $8,000,000 Reconstruction and Advance Fund, to restore destroyed and damaged properties of the church in the Orient.

All members of the church are urged to remain for a few moments after morning service for a short business meeting to adopt the constitution and by-laws, and sign the articles of incorporation under the statute law of the state. "Everybody who had anything to do with founding this church and bringing it to this state of maturity should sign as charter members," said Rev. Hogarth. The next bi-monthly meeting of the Guild of St. Paul's in the Desert will be held in the home of Mrs. Emil Wagner, 591 North Belardo road.

The first telegraphic news of a presidential inauguration was sent by Professor Samuel F. B. Morse at the inauguration of President Polk in 1845.

Just when you think it's getting about time for a trip to the surf, along comes a late snow and changes your mind for you. Villagers who dug out the extra blankets and long flannels Sunday night, understood why they were cold when they viewed the surrounding mountains the next morning. Should make for a busy week-end at neighboring mountain resorts.

Back to join his wife and son in Palm Springs, is Harold Bar-kow. Harold also sports a shiny gold lapel pin, a gift from Uncle Sam. Funny thing about these fellows who have returned from the service, they don't seem to miss it a bit. Wouldn't it be wonderful if a wife could have half the control over the returned G.I. that the C. O. had?

THEY'LL BE WED

Valentine's Day has been chosen as the date for the wedding of Margaret L. Watkins of Dublin, Georgia, to Lt. Duncan Campbell Weatherall. Cam is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Bertram Weatherall and has been back in the Village often since his return from overseas.

The flu bug seems to be trying to stage a come-back. Josephine Sprague was a recent victim and Dick Mosely was almost detained from reporting for his boot training at the Coast Guard station in Alameda because of an attack that disappeared as quickly as it came on. Don Omlin was down for the week-end from the Alameda base having a good time hither and yon. Don hasn't been around these parts much since he entered the service.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weeks are the parents of an eight pound, twelve ounce son, born in Riverside on Monday. Betty Kelly ran out on her dinner guests Saturday night and left the Milton Hicks and Earl Houghs in the hands of cousin Ruth Roberson. Excuses were accepted, however, as Betty's second daughter arrived as soon as she and Tommy had reached Riverside. All of which made for a real celebration at the Inn when the news was reported.

AT PALM VILLAGE

Clarence and Juanita Bosworth are now residents of Palm Village. Clarence has entered the date industries. Erstwhile Palm Springers who dropped down during the week were Helen Darnel with her two sons and father-in-law, Ben Darnel, and Warren Pinney, Jr. The Pinneys have been stationed in Mexico for the last three months. Rogers Ranch was packed to capacity Tuesday night when the Los Compadres held their dance. Glen Rogers was busy taking pictures of the square dancers in their lovely costumes. The Strebels, Frances and Earl, Ethel and George, enjoyed the wonderful cuisine in Trav's dining room before the dance began. Next Tuesday the Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold their dance in the same spot.

Marilyn Crockett is being feted in lieu of her coming wedding. Last Saturday, Miss Sally Lockett and her mother, Mrs. Donald Lockett, were hostesses at luncheon to members of the bridal party and their mothers. Mrs. Ted Robinson and Mrs. Holly Lash Visel are planning a luncheon for this Saturday to honor the bride elect. Members of the Chancel Choir and friends will gather at Mrs. Visel's home.

Two Women Have Cold Time When Sand Grips Auto

Mrs. Phonsine Thorburn and Miss Veronica Way, both of Beverly Hills, experienced some of the hardships last Monday night, that the early wagon train pioneers experienced on the desert.

Skidding off a seldom-traveled road near Joshua Tree National Monument, the two women were unable to extricate the wheels of their automobile which instantly sunk hub-deep in the sand.

After hours of fruitless effort, the "death" of three flashlights, plus the "demise" of the hard-working automobile battery, and in a strong, cold, desert wind, the women decided to camp for the night. Apparently not an automobile passed to succor them, either. During the night, cold frost accumulated in the interior of the automobile and the women were forced to light a camp stove to keep warm.

At least they had a camp stove.

The chance of a meteorite hitting a city is very slight, for meteorites hit the earth at the rate of only one to a square mile in about 1,000,000 years.

Two Additions, One Demise, at Desert Museum

Last week the director of the Desert Museum, Lloyd Smith, announced two acquisitions to the Museum's exhibits, and one deletion. The first addition was a live Solpugid or Sun-spider, often called the Vinegaroon. This creature, which is not a spider, but only related to that group of animals, is harmless and lives buried in the dirt during the day, venturing forth at night in search of insects to feed upon.

The second addition, by Wally Larson, was a bird's nest, probably made by some enterprising sparrow. This particular nest, found in a grapefruit tree in a nearby orchard, is unique because of the materials of which it was constructed. The base of the nest was made of a large piece of heavy wrapping paper. Next was interwoven several large sections of small rope and cord with long fibrous grass-stems. On this solid foundation, the nest itself was woven of palm-leaf fibers, with the addition of bits of bark from that tree to strengthen the entire structure. The nest is also of interest inasmuch as a potter-wasp later constructed a double-decker home of mud on one edge of the paper base.

The Museum's loss last week was the baby Sidewinder Rattlesnake which always aroused comments by the visitors because of its small size. It was not in good health when donated to the Museum by Mr. Gottbehuet last December, and continued to fail daily. Condolences have been sent to Claude Gottbehuet, who donated it.

Long Hope, Held For Missing Son, Finally Abandoned

"Missing in action," three tragic words which engulfed mothers, fathers, wives and dear ones of soldiers who have fought in all wars, in a sea of anxiety, hopeful waiting against all hope, most of the time in vain as the records have indicated, came to a climatic finale for the parents of Second Lieutenant Richard G. Strombon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Strombon, of 1862 South Palm Canyon drive, this past week.

Victory in Germany has not found 2nd Lt. Richard Strombon a captive of the Germans.

Victory has not revealed the grave where he fell on foreign soil.

"LOST IN ACTION"

Victory found Richard Strombon officially dead. And where the record indicated that he and his comrades were "missing in action," those three words, now dreadful to the senior Strombon and his wife, have no more tragic weight than the words which are now opposite their son's name: "Lost in Action."

In a letter received by Fred Strombon this past week from the Adjutant General's office of the War Department, Richard, his son who was reported missing in action January 24, 1945, has been officially declared dead by that war agency.

DESCRIBE ACTION

The letter reads in part as follows:

"Since your son, 2nd Lt. Richard G. Strombon, Air Corps, was reported missing in action January 24, 1945, the war department has entertained the hope that he survived and that information would be revealed dispelling the uncertainty surrounding his absence. However, as in many cases, the conditions of warfare deny us such information. The records concerning your son show that he was one of a crew of three of an A-26 Invader bomber on a bombing mission over Germany. After the first pass over the target enemy anti-aircraft fire was encountered and a direct flak burst made a hole in the bottom of your son's plane.

"At approximately 11,000 feet a parachute was seen leaving the bomber. The snow covered ground made it impossible to ascertain whether or not the parachute landed safely. None of the crew were ever heard of again. Upon contact with the ground the bombs exploded, destroying the plane. This action occurred in the vicinity of Waxweiler, Germany, east of the Luxembourg border."

FATHER A VETERAN

The letter continued by saying that after all available information bearing on the absence of Strombon had been considered, and inasmuch as twelve months had expired without receipt of evidence to support a continued presumption of survival, the War Department must terminate such presumptive finding by declaring 2nd Lt. Strombon dead.

Fred Strombon is employed at the local post office and works at the parcel post window. He is himself an ex-soldier, having served in World War One. He is also qualified to join the Disabled American Veterans' organization, a post of which has this week been inaugurated in Palm Springs. Lt. Richard was his only child.

Palm Village

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Itter of Laguna Beach have completed their plans for a home and studio in the Village. Mr. Itter is an artist of international renown—he has had success in all the countries of Europe, where he has studied and painted, as well as all over the United States where his pictures have been exhibited. The Itters expect to be in their new home next fall.

Lovely Margaret Churchill of the movies, brought a party to the Palm Village Inn last week.

New names in the Inn guest book: Mrs. William Fraser, Mitchell, South Dakota; J. N. DeFrance, Omaha, Nebraska; Mrs. M. J. Bussy, Santa Ana; William E. Chilton, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Chester O. Nelson, San Diego; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Wilson, Los Angeles; Lt. Mary West, A.N.C., San Francisco.

Large crowds gathered Sunday morning to watch the demonstration conducted by S. Maus Purple. A wall was built in 23 minutes—speed of construction and durability are the main features of this new type of construction. Paramount Newsreel photographed the demonstration.

Construction has been started on the new home of W. H. Hodgeman. John Williams of Palm Springs is the architect.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Erb of North Hollywood, have purchased the W. E. Greene home.

Palm Village is greatly saddened by the sudden death of James Flanders, owner of the Gift Corral. Mr. and Mrs. Flanders owned a gift shop in San Jacinto for many years, coming to Palm Village in 1942. Mr. Flanders was an authority on Indian craft and the display of Indian jewelry is one of the finest in the southwest.
